FAUBUS FAILS TO SHOW IN COURT

Ready to Repave Donner

State Highway Department crews are scheduled to begin repaving the entire length of Donner Ave. in Monessen "sometime next week".

N. G. Bell, state highways district engineer, said today that the work will begin early in the week if weather permits.

"The contract for materials has already been awarded and we're ready to move our equipment into Monessen immediately," said Bell. "The actual resurfacing will be done by highway department personnel."

The state assumed maintenance of Donner Ave. earlier this year. The avenue carries Route 906 through the city.

Bell said he anticipated no delay in the start of the project "unless prolonged rains make the present brick surface too wet for blacktopping."

To Open Bids

In recent weeks, the city has readied Donner for the blacktop resurfacing by removing old street car rails and by raising manholes.

The state also plans to pave and widen Schoonmaker Ave. from Sixth St. to a point on Seventh St. That project will be contracted to a private firm, Bell said.

Bell reported that bids on the Schoonmaker paving will be opened next Friday in Harrisburg. He said work may start this year if contracts are awarded immediately.

Otherwise the project may be delayed until early next spring. Schoonmaker carries Route 906 north through Monessen.

The scheduled paving and widening will conform with the section of Schoonmaker concreted several years ago.

19 Westmoreland County Towns to Enter Contest

Nineteen Westmoreland County communities — including Monessen — have indicated that they will take part in the state community development contest sponsored annually by the Pennsylvania Chamber of Commerce.

As a prelude to the 1957 contest, a progress tour will be held Monday by representatives of communities in the Greensburg-Latrobe area.

The tour is being sponsored in cooperation with the West Penn Power Co. Representing Monessen in the one-day trip will be Charles Hagerstrand, president of the city Chamber, and George Cieply, manager.

Next year, a similar tour is planned of communities in the Monessen area.

Actual judging will not begin until next March. All participating communities must submit entries prior to March 1, 1958, listing accomplishments for the current year.

Two county communities won prizes as a result of 1956 development. They were Monessen, a third place winner of $750, and Jeannette, a fourth place winner of $500. The West Penn Power Co. matched both of those prizes.

The state Chamber of Commerce will distribute $25,000 in all to contest winners for 1957. The county will again receive duplicate awards from West Penn.

Damage of School At Monongahela

School officials at Monongahela today threatened to prosecute all persons damaging or defacing school property "to the full provisions" of the law.

Dr. John A. Griffiths, superintendent of schools, announced the "get tough" policy following a meeting of administrators.

The decision was prompted by reports that bottles had been broken on the walk at Monongahela High School. It was also reported that holes had been clipped in the fence surrounding the athletic field.

GSA Board Rules Out Closed Meetings Despite Objections

HARRISBURG (UP) — The General State Authority has ruled out any closed executive board meetings over the objections of one member who contended sessions open to press and public "will be a great deterrent to full and free discussions."

The board voted 9-1 Thursday to throw open all future meetings, including any executive sessions. But Rep. Albert S. Readinger (Berks), House Democratic leader, warned that the "effect" of opening the formerly secret executive board sessions would be to "lead members of this board to withhold discussion."

The issue arose after the last meeting of the agency was opened to the press and public but virtually all of its business was a "rubber stamp" operation of business transacted at a closed executive session held immediately prior to the other meeting.

Gov. George M. Leader said later he was opposed to the closing of executive sessions but said other board members favored the practice.

At its Thursday sessions, Senate Majority Leader Rowland B. Mahany (R-Crawford), a board member and a sponsor of the new "right to know" laws, moved that all future executive and regular sessions of the agency be open.

"I'm not going to be the one to keep the public from knowing what's going on here when we're spending millions of dollars of public money," Mahany said.

But Readinger and Senate Democratic Leader John H. Dent (Westmoreland) argued the discussions at executive sessions might be harmful politically to members of the agency who also represented their home districts as legislators.

"Do we open our party caucuses to the press and public?" Dent asked. "Do we open our committee meetings of the Legislature?"

Mahany replied that caucuses should be closed because their affairs were a political party matter. But he said he favored making committee meetings of the lawmakers open affairs.

"If you are going to have all (authority) meetings public, I'll vote for my home community on every project," Dent said.

Stroke Cause Of McKeesport Athlete's Death

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A autopsy has revealed that a stroke was the cause of the death of Tommy Reynolds, 16, McKeesport High School football player, who collapsed on the school field during a practice session.

It was believed at first the boy had died as a result of a football injury.

The boy collapsed during a scrimmage at nearby McKeesport on Wednesday. He had made a tackle, felt ill and walked to the sideline where he blacked out. He died early Thursday.

It was disclosed the boy also had blacked out Aug. 23 while the team was at summer training camp in Bakersville, Pa., and had been hospitalized two days. Doctors could find no injury and he was allowed to rejoin the team.

School authorities announced the game between McKeesport High School and Pittsburgh Central Catholic would be played tonight as scheduled.

Mrs. Catherine McLaughlin, the dead boy's mother, said "that's the way Tommy would have wanted it."

New Zealand Prime Minister Resigns

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UP)—Prime Minister Sidney G. Holland of New Zealand resigned today because of illness and an eye complaint, it was announced.

Gov. Gen. Sir Willoughby Norrie called on Deputy Prime Minister K. J. Holyoake to take over the post.

Lots of Rain In Area Today

The adage "When it Rains it Pours" really rang true for the Monessen district today.

With hardly any rain to talk about the past several weeks, Lock No. 4, of Monessen, reported that nearly ¾ of an inch of rain fell between 7 and. 11 o'clock this morning. The rain had let up before noon but overcast skies carried the threat of more rain.

A Fayette City resident said he spotted a rainbow about 8 o'clock this morning.

District Priest, Captive of Reds, Is Reported Ill

PITTSBURGH (UP)—A Pittsburgh priest held captive by the Chinese Communists the past four years is in poor physical condition, his family learned today.

Dan O'Connel, of Chicago, a member of the group of young Americans touring Red China, reported he visited Father Cyril Wagner, a Franciscan missionary, at a jail in Shanghai.

He said the 50-year-old priest was alert and cheerful but in poor health.

Father Wagner told him he receives Holy Communion and also is able to celebrate Mass once in a while, O'Connel said.

Father Wagner was imprisoned in 1953 on a charge of "informing" and is not scheduled to be released until June 19, 1958.

Teamsters Brass not Ready for Roadblocks

MIAMI BEACH (UP)—The high command of the Teamsters Union had no ready answer today for an AFL-CIO committee's ultimatum, nor for a court suit seeking to halt the election of officers at the union's Sept. 30 convention.

Teamster officials, here for an executive board meeting, appeared to be little concerned about the suit filed in federal court at Washington Thursday by 13 "rank and file" union members from the New York City area. The suit charged them with attempting to stack convention delegates to elect Midwest Teamster boss James R. Hoffa as general president.

The 13-man board was devoting its full attention to this week's report of the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee which charged the Teamsters were dominated by "corrupt influences." The report hinted strongly that the 1,400,000-member truckers union would be thrown out of the AFL-CIO if Hoffa is chosen president.

The Teamsters board discussed the report for some two hours Thursday last night without making any decisions. It planned to meet again today for further discussion.

Dave Beck, outgoing president who said he would not seek the job again if "they gave me $500,000 a year," said only four of the 13-man executive board had seen the AFL-CIO committee report before Thursday night. He declined to predict what response, if any, the board might make.

Beck said on his arrival here Thursday that the Teamsters were prepared to "stand alone" if they had to.

He said he would prefer that the union remain in the AFL-CIO "unless they try to tell us who we will elect for our officials and try to interfere with the autonomy of our union."

Hoffa voiced a similar sentiment earlier Thursday

Phone Strike Ended

NEW YORK (UP)—A contract agreement ended today a four-day strike of telephone equipment installers that partially disrupted long - distance telephone service across the nation.

Federal mediator Walter Maggiolo announced the settlement shortly before 1 a.m. e.d.t. climaxing two days of marathon negotiations.

(A spokesman at the Bell Telephone Co's central office in Charleroi said today that all district phone service has been restored. He said all scheduled employes returned to work this morning following the end of a four-day strike by the Communications Workers of America.)

Most of the 23,800 striking installers were expected to return to their jobs today. The installers, members of the Communications Workers of America, are employed by the Western Electric Co., the manufacturing arm of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. They install telephone equipment in telephone exchanges in all states with the exception of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Montana.

Pay Increase

In Atlanta, a spokesman for the southeastern local of the CWA said installers in that area would not return to work until disciplinary action was withdrawn against non-striking employes who observed the union's picket lines. A company spokesman said, however, that he had not heard of any employes being suspended because of refusing to cross picket lines.

The new contract, for two years, provides a 6 to 12 - cent hourly pay increase; a 25-cent-a-day increase in transfer allowances and eliminates overnight travel whenever possible. In addition, the pact provides for a reopening clause after one year for discussions on wages and travel allowance.

The union estimated the total hourly "package" cost at 13.2 cents.

The union membership has one month to ratify the contract, which is retroactive to Aug. 20, the date the old contract expired.

Court of Appeals Upholds Right to Set Coal Wages

WASHINGTON (UP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals has upheld the right of the secretary of labor to set minimum wages in the bituminous coal industry under U.S. government purchase contracts.

The decision, rendered Thursday and published today, confirms the broad interpretation of the Labor Department's minimum wage authority which labor secretaries have been making under the Walsh-Healey public contracts act since its passage in 1936.

Ruth Elkhorn Coals, Inc., carried the case to the appeals court after a district court upheld Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's determination of prevailing minimum wages in the bituminous industry.

The company contended that the law does not apply to this industry because it exempts suppliers of material "as may usually be bought in the open market."

The three-judge appeals court disagreed. It cited specific exemptions and language written into the law which "indicate that congress did not intend the open market exemption itself to exclude supplies simply because they were available generally in the open market."

Two Men Suffer Minor Injuries

Two men suffered minor injuries in an auto accident in Bentleyville about 1:15 this morning, it was learned.

Injured were Alio Coletti, 24, of 25 Luce Ave., Monessen, bruises about the right arm and right knee, and Joseph Garofola, 26, of R. D. 3, Belle Vernon, cuts about the right cheek. Both were discharged from Charleroi-Monessen Hospital after treatment.

State police had no report of the mishap.

'IRREPARABLE DAMAGE' — T. Edward Rutter (left), superintendent of schools in Arlington, Va., and attorney James Simmonds head for a federal court hearing on racial integration in the county schools. Simmonds said "irreparable damage" would result if intergration were complied with only to be overruled on appeal. The judge postponed the deadline for admitting seven Negro children to the schools.

Officials Welcome Annexation Study

Both Monessen and Rostraver school officials said today that they will welcome a "field investigation" by the state Public Instruction Department as a basis for settling a long dispute involving two areas annexed by the city from the township in 1955.

Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of Monessen public schools, said he had not been informed "officially" of the proposed investigation, but added that he will "cooperate fully".

At Rostraver, Superintendent of Schools E. F. Carter made the same statement.

The field investigation was ordered Wednesday by the state Council of Education, a government body which must authorize all school district revisions.

Previously, the council had refused to separate the two annexed areas from Rostraver when the township school district argued such a revision would create a "hardship".

Lose $30,000

Rostraver has maintained that it will lose more than $30,000 annually in tax revenue if the annexed areas are taken away. That will force a six mill increase on real estate taxes to meet current financial obligations, the township has contended.

Since the state Council of Education's original decision not to separate the areas, residents in that section, at their own expense, have petitioned several times for a revision so that their children might attend Monessen schools.

The council has agreed to act on the latest petition not later than Jan. 1.

Neither Dr. Pallone nor Carter had any idea when the promised field investigation would begin.

"I have no idea what the investigation will consist of, but the Monessen school district will certainly cooperate in every manner possible," said Dr. Pallone. "We will naturally urge that all students living within the city limits be permitted to attend city schools."

Carter said Rostraver was also "ready and willing" to cooperate

Midget Football Player Injured

A 10-year old Monessen Midget Football League player suffered a compound fracture of the leg last night during a practice session.

Nicholas Milasincic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Milasincic, of 1047 Highland Ave., was reported in "good" condition today at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital following surgery.

The youngster was injured during a practice of the Lincoln team. Coach Dale Simpson said the mishap occurred during a blocking drill.

Attack Report Not Correct, Chief Claims

Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka today asked The Daily Independent to correct an erroneous police report made earlier this week in connection with the four youngsters who snatched purses from two teenage girls in downtown Monessen.

Kuvinka's corrected report stated the incident occurred between 9:20 and 9:30 Monday night and not at 10 30 as first reported.

He also said the youngsters did not knock the two girls to the ground; they snatched their purses only and then fled through an alley.

The victims were Lamese Essey, 15, of 1217 Summit Ave., and Carol Kachmarik, 16, of 1312 Summit Ave., both of Monessen. They were on their way home when youngsters, ranging from six to 10 years of age, snatched their purses near Seventh St. and Donner Ave.

Kuvinka stressed that Misses Essey and Kachmarik were not violating the 10 o'clock curfew Monday.

The youngsters were apprended later and released into the custody of their parents pending an investigation by juvenile authorities.

Governor Faces Court Injunction For Integration

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus failed to appear today at a hearing on a Justice Department petition to enjoin him from defying the U. S. government by preventing the integration of Central High School with the National Guard.

He was not in U. S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies' court when it opened at 10:02 a. m. (C.S.T.,) and his lawyers, Kay Matthews of Little Rock and Tom Harper of Fort Smith, said he will not appear.

Thurgood Marshall, the NAACP's general counsel from New York, was in the courtroom. So were nine Negro children who were turned away from Central High School by National Guardsmen.

Faubus' failure to appear will not affect the hearing. He is under no compulsion to appear, as long as he is represented. His lawyers served that purpose and prevented the Justice Department from getting the injunction by default.

If an injunction is handed down and Faubus fails to obey it, he could become the first governor to be arrested and fined or sent to jail for contempt of court.

Before the government starts presenting witnesses, Judge Davies must rule on a request by Faubus to let himself be replaced by another judge on the ground of personal bias.

The government filed a motion just before court opened today, accusing Faubus of trying to stall off the hearing.

Assistant U.S. Attorney James W. Gallman filed the motion less than an hour before the hearing opened. It asked U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies to strike an affidavit of prejudice that Faubus filed Thursday.

"In view of the absence of the showing of any adequate reason for such delay, the affidavit (filed by Faubus) must be regarded as solely directed to accomplish delay and cause embarrassment to the administration of justice," the government motion said.

Accuses Federal Judge

Faubus accused Judge Davies of being biased and asked him to disqualify himself.

Gallman charged that: Faubus had failed to cite any facts showing personal bias; that the press reports Faubus cited were not acceptable as evidence; that his charge that Davies had prejudged the issues was not sustained by the facts, and that Faubus had waited almost to the last minute to file the affidavit.

If the government gets an injunction against Faubus today, and he refuses to obey it, he could be arrested and fined or sent to jail for contempt. This probably has never happened to a governor.

A source close to Faubus said he doubted that Faubus would order the National Guard away from Central High or tell it to let Negroes register even if he were put under injunction.

Faubus, who accused U.S. District Judge Ronald N. Davies Thursday of being biased and asked him to disqualify himself in today's hearing, refused to say what he will do. He wouldn't even

Smithton Area Young Man Is Killed by Train

Jerry J. Sattalow, 25, Smithton, R. D., was killed last night when struck by a locomotive at a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad crossing near Smithton.

Westmoreland County Coroner Stephen Yoney said Sattalow apparently was crossing the tracks when the accident happened.

His mangled body was discovered early today by a passerby en route to work, Yoney said.

Sattalow, a student at California Teachers College, was probably on his way home over the crossing about a mile south of Smithton in South Huntingdon Twp., Yoney surmised.

The victim had served four years in the Air Force and was in the junior class at CSTC.

Surviving are his parents Mr. and Mrs. Meigo Sattalow, Smithton R. D.; a twin brother Jack, Cleveland; a sister, Mrs. Robert (Dolores) Pattavino, Smithton R. D.

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. from the Barthel Funeral Home, Smithton, with Rev. James Harkins, pastor of the Hope Memorial Lutheran Church in charge. Interment will be in Olive Branch Cemetery.

$325,562 Grant For Pittsburgh Slum Clearance

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Commerce Department has allocated $325,562 to the Redevelopment Authority of Allegheny County for slum clearance and rehabilitation at the agency's project in Braddock.

The allocation brings the total subsidies for the authority to $425,562 since the State Planning Board earmarked $100,000 for the agency earlier.

The Braddock project covers almost five acres bounded roughly by Moody, Margaretta and Sixth sts. and Braddock, Lilley and Corey avenues. The area was described as 87 per cent residential and nine per cent commercial buildings, virtually all in substandard condition.

When redeveloped, part of the area will be used as off-street parking facilities. The district along Braddock Ave. will be continued as a commercial area.

PRR Net Income Drop Is Reported

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — The Pennsylvania Railroad today reported net income of $3,262,262 for August, a drop of 33 per cent from the figure for August of 1956.

The railroad reported net income was more than $16-million for the eight month period ended Aug. 31 compared with $27 million in 1956. Earnings dropped from $2.07 to $1.26 per share.

The railroad said the reduced earnings "continue to reflect increasing wage and material costs which were not offset by increases in rates."

County Judges Endorse Democratic Candidates

Westmoreland County Democratic headquarters today announced that the county's three sitting judges have endorsed the three Democratic judicial candidates in the Nov. 5 general election.

Making the public endorsements were President Judge Richard D. Laird, and Judges John O'Connell and Charles D. Copeland.

The endorsements were made in favor of Judges Edward G. Bauer and David H. Weiss and District Attorney L. Alexander Sculco.

Laird, who is retiring from the bench this year, said he knew the work of these men, "having served with them throughout the years. I highly recommend these candidates for the favorable consideration of the electors."

Judges O'Connell and Copeland made these comments:

O'Connell — "I feel the election of these three candidates to the bench is a contribution to good government. I highly recommend them to the voters. . ."

Copeland — "It is up to everyone to stick together and strive for the election of these three candidates. I am sure with the complete support of all, we will have no trouble electing them, and we will continue to have good men on the bench of Westmoreland County."

In last May's primary election, Copeland supported former assistant District Attorney Joseph M. Loughran, who bolted from the Democratic Party and ran as an Independent Democrat against Bauer and Sculco. Loughran ran a strong third.

All three sitting judges attended a banquet in honor of the candidates at Baldoc Hills Country Club Tuesday and announced they will vigorously campaign for them.

Gromyko Says U. S. Meddling

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP)—Russia blamed the United States today for the crisis in Syria and the Middle East and disclaimed any intention by the Kremlin to meddle in internal affairs there.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, in a policy speech to the United Nations General Assembly, also:

—Proposed a suspension of nuclear weapons tests for two to three years.

—Proposed outlawing use of atomic and hydrogen arms for at least five years.

—Called for a "peaceful coexistence" agreement among all countries.

—Demanded that the U.N. end its concern with the situation in Hungary.

—Urged strengthening of the U.N. by dissolving "various blocs and military alliances."

Bid for Support

—Declared that the authority of the U.N. is being undermined by the exclusion of Communist China.

Russia now appeared to be attempting to overcome this Western objection with the idea of a limited "first step" ban on nuclear weapons. The offer also was seen as a major bid to win neutral support for Russia's disarmament proposals in the U.N. General Assembly.

The Soviet draft resolution on suspension of nuclear weapons tests referred to world concern about such experiments and stated that a moratorium on them would "constitute the first practical step" toward complete prohibition of such arms and "would be an obstacle in perfecting and creating new and more destructive types of these weapons of mass destruction." It said continuation of such tests creates danger to human life and health.

Gromyko, replying to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' attack on Soviet policy in the Middle East, said it is "the U.S.A. and not the Soviet Union" that is meddling there.

Friendly 'Gator Responsible for Two-car Crash

BRAZIL, Ind. (UP) — College coeds are no strangers to "wolves" in the back seat of their cars, but an amorous alligator is something else.

Albert, a three-foot demonstration alligator, was responsible for a two-car collision. Four practice teachers from De Pauw University at Greencastle had brought Albert here for observation by a high school biology class.

On the way home, Albert, began to feel deep stirrings.

He crawled out of his cardboard box and beheld Carol Leopold and ancy Neely. Beneath that rough exterior beat an affectionate heart. Albert snuggled up to the two young ladies.

They backed away from him—causing a mild commotion.

No one was injured in the minor collision that followed, but Albert, relegated to the cardboard box again, might be suffering from a broken heart.

Tiny Republic Hit by Battle for Control

SAN MARINO (UP) — Communist officials barricaded themselves in the government palace today to frustrate any attempt by an anti-Communist regime from moving in and taking over control of this tiny republic on Italy's Adriatic coast.

This 38-square-mile republic, the world's oldest and tiniest, Thursday found itself with two rival governments after days of political maneuvering.

The battle for control exploded into a melee of fistfighting in the town square between some 600 Communist supporters, brought in from the fields and factories, and anti-Communist councillors.

Thursday night, Communist officials moved into the 15th Century government palace, bed and baggage. Outside the palace, party henchmen set up an all night guard, sitting on the cobbled pavement nursing straw-covered flasks of chianti wine and waving away all who came near.

Secretary of State Domenico Mogantl stuck his head out of a window Thursday night and announced the republic would hold general elections on Nov. 3. He indicated the Communists would not leave the palace before then.

The Communists, who have ruled this mountain-top enclave since World War II, Thursday dissolved the ruling Grand and General Council, which serves as parliament.

But the anti-Communists, led by the Christian Democrats, immediately charged that the Red action was illegal and set up a rival executive council.

Board

(R-Armstrong) and House GOP Leader Albert W. Johnson (McKean) were not present for the voting.

The authority approved a priority program for projects throughout the state. The projects and their estimated cost:

Land purchases for state teachers' colleges, $1,000,000; acquisition of property for the Independence Mall, Philadelphia, $2,250,000; library and classroom building for the University of Pennsylvania, $5,040,000; chemistry building at Temple University, $5,040,000; classroom building at the University of Pittsburgh, $5,040,000; facilities for education of teachers of retarded children, $1,512,000; an addition for the Connellsville State Hospital, $1,260,000; additional wing for Shamokin State Hospital, $630,000; underground parking facilities at the state capitol, $1,260,000; development of Point Park, Pittsburgh, $1,260,000; new roof for Farm Show Building, $315,000; plans for a William Penn Memorial and a museum and archives building at Harrisburg, $350,000; land purchase for Scranton State Hospital, $500,000; plans for a physical science building at Lincoln University, $50,000; plans for a field house at Slippery Rock State Teachers College, $50,000; plans for dining hall and dormitory at Edinboro State Teachers College, $75,000.

with the state investigators. He pointed out that both Rostraver and Monessen have already submitted reports on the controversy, including budget figures and other pertinent information.

Carter has been instructed by the Rostraver Board of Education "to present all facts and data in the case" in an effort to keep the annexed areas within the township school district.

About 75 students are involved in the dispute. The area embraces 199 acres in the Park Plan section of the city with real estate valued at about $450,000.

Warn of Reds

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (UP) —The Malayan government today warned parents to be on guard against Communist attempts to get jungle recruits from among students in urban schools. A government statement said the Communist terrorists hiding in the jungles were finding it more and more difficult to get youths in rural areas to join them because those youths "know how tough life in the jungle can be." The statement said the Reds obtained 21 recruits in Johore State during the past year.

U. S. Develops Radar To Detect Missiles Up to 3,000 Miles Away

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Air Force reported today that the United States has developed radar which will detect an intercontinental ballistic missile up to 3,000 miles away.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, said the advanced type of radar will be put into use "in the near future" to give U.S. population and military centers "instantaneous warning" of a missile attack.

White's disclosure came on the heels of Defense Department confirmation Thursday night that this country has flown a test ballistic missile for "thousands of miles."

White told the Defense Orientation Association, meeting at the Pentagon, that the Air Force has made "recent break-throughs in the computer, communications, radar and missiles fields."

"Work is now being actively pursued in two phases of the total system" of air defense, he said.

"Radars have now been developed which have detection ranges on an intercontinental ballistic missile out to 3,000 miles," White said.

"This system, which will provide instantaneous warning to our population and military centers, is planned for operational employment in the near future," White said.

The Army and Air Force are both working on the two key elements in defense against "the ultimate weapon"—the ICBM.

One is the long range radar White disclosed today.

The other is a missile which could be launched in the few minutes' warning time radar would give and could intercept the ICBM somewhere on its trajectory.

The Army is developing a missile called Zeus. The Air Force is in a much earlier stage of work on a device called Wizard.

Officials said earlier today the United States has tested a ballistic missile equal to Russia's.

The Defense Department said the test vehicle was fired "thousands of miles" across the skies. Experts elaborated that the last showed it was possible to send a rocket at speeds of 12,000 to 15,000 miles per hour to distances of 3,600 miles.

Confirmation of reports that the U.S. had tested a long range ballistic missile came Thursday night in a speech to a scientific forum by William Holaday, special assistant for guided missiles to Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson.

say whether he will attend the hearing.

"I have no specific plan, but rather a series of alternate plans depending upon the developments," he said.

The government ordered Faubus to court amid these developments on the segregation scene.

Newport: President Eisenhower said he was "deeply disappointed" because his meeting with Faubus in Newport last Saturday failed to solve the Little Rock controversy.

Washington: Vice President Richard M. Nixon met Thursday with former Brooklyn baseball star Jackie Robinson and other Negroes on Eisenhower's proposed conference with Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N.Y.). They sent the President a suggestion that he meet with a group of Negro leaders rather than with Powell only.

Dallas: Segregationist James D. Johnson charged last Thursday night the federal district court in Little Rock has "absolutely no jurisdiction" in the integration dispute in Arkansas. He said under the doctrine of interposition even the Supreme Court has no jurisdiction in such a constitutional impasse.

An official source said he understood the government's plan is get just enough testimony for get just enough testmony for Davies to put Faubus under temporary injunction.

This source said the government then plans to drop the whole thing, because once a temporary injunction breaks the stalemate and gets integration started, there will be no need of a permanent injunction.

Wallet Birth Certificates

HARRISBURG (UP) — Miniature, wallet-size birth certificates will be available for the first time in Pennsylvania today at offices of the state Health Department.

Health Secretary Berwyn F. Mattison said the first of the small certificates will be mailed out to answer applications which have been coming in since the 1957 Legislature authorized their issuance. The new law became effective Sept. 15.

The miniature certificates are four inches by two inches in size and are available for persons born after 1906. Before that date the department was not required to keep birth records.

Parole Board Says Drinking Tops Violations

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Pennsylvania Parole Board said today excessive drinking was the chief cause of parole violations.

Board Chairman, Paul J. Gernert said a study covering the years 1952 to 1957 showed that one of every two persons returned to prison was guilty of excessive use of alcoholic beverages.

A total of 1,549 parolees went back to prison during that period and the violation of the rule against drinking was given as the cause in 804 cases.

Gernert said that while parolees seldom were returned for violation of one rule, drinking usually contributed to other failings such as loss of jobs, criminal associations, or arrests for minor offenses.

The rule on drinking states: "The excessive use of alcoholic beverages has contributed more to failures on parole than all other causes combined; therefore, it is wise to avoid all alcoholic beverages. You should not drink whiskey, wine, beer, gin, or any other beverages containing alcohol. To do so may lead you into difficulties which will result in your return."

Haluska Claims Federal Judge Is 'Prejudiced'

PITTSBURGH (UP) — John J. Haluska, former state senator petitioned Federal Court Thursday to prohibit Judge John J. Miller from presiding over the Hoxsey Cancer Clinic injunction case on charges the judge was prejudiced.

The case is scheduled to go to trial next Monday.

An affidavit of "bias and prejudice" stated that Miller had termed Haluska's use of the Fifth Amendment a "flagrant, cynical abuse."

Haluska also charged Miller was upset about a pamphlet that purported to describe the first trial last year, in which a jury ruled that pills given patients at the clinic to cure cancer were misbranded. Haluska stated he was in no way responsible for the printing of the pamphlets.

The decision whether to disqualify Miller will be made by Miller himself.

Stock Forecaster Is Needed in Wall Street

NEW YORK (UP)—Apparently there's a job open to be the Mr. Dior of Wall Street.

Admitting that styles change in stocks as well as in clothes, Wall Street would like to know what the new styles will be. Hence the need of a Dior in the market place.

The job as such—telling the styles—wouldn't pay very much. But the man or woman who can guess what's going to catch the fancy of the investors or speculators could make a fortune.

In the past there were periods when the steels were in style. Also the aircrafts. Not too long ago, the drugs had their day. And once upon a time, it was the rails.

Wondering about the new styles in the financial district, Eldon A. Grimm, analyst for Walston & Co. notes that very often the least expected happens in Wall Street.

"Just when almost everybody is somewhat discouraged," he notes, "new leaders and new groups will swing to the fore.

"What new faces will emerge is not certain right now. But if past history is any guide at all, they will. Opportunity is always knocking—except for those chronic pessimists who always knock opportunity.

"What will the new leaders be? Could they be missile issues, electronic issues such as Zenith or Hoffman Electronics. Isn't it possible that some land or oil company might come up with a new major mineral or gas and oil discovery?

"How about bank stocks which seem very temptingly priced here? Will IBM continue its sharp long-term trend? Which pay-TV issue will prove successful? And what about a lot of new wonder drugs, and atomic energy? Will the gas bill pass? There are dozens of possibilities.

It is noted that certain groups can be in style without influencing the general market. The leaders really have to have the big stuff to move the whole list, it is noted.

The automobile group, small though it is, could do quite a job, it is held. So could the oils, even though they had their day not many months ago.

Rails most certainly could give the market a real tonic, the market men aver. This group is the twin of the chart experts along with the industrials. And when rails move, the chartists really go to work.

We Heard It— ABOUT the VALLEY

(By The Independent News Staff)

Pancook 'Cooked'

Several weeks ago members of Monessen Elks Lodge 773 worked up a plan to charter a bus for the Pitt-Oklahoma football game set for tomorrow at Pitt Stadium.

Everett Pancook, Elk trustee, thought it was a whale of an idea and took over the arrangements. He chartered a bus for 35, ordered the tickets and lined up the reservations. Thirty-five Elks signed up almost immediately and there was a waiting list for possible cancellations.

Last week the tickets arrived and were distributed to the 35 lucky Elks. Pancook wasn't among them.

He forgot to sign up.

Always Thinking

When the "world's fattest man" was on display in Monessen earlier this week, visitors were surprised at what it takes to feed him at one sitting: six pounds of steak, five pounds of onions, 15 pounds of potatoes, three quarts of milk, one pound of butter, three large pies and three quarts of ice cream.

Irwin Sanes, Monessen restaurant proprietor, was among the surprised, but he was equally enterprising when he saw the menu.

Never one to pass up a potential customer, Sanes thought of the noise his cash register would make if he could get the fat boy to eat in his place.

He was unsuccessful, however. The "blimp" was carrying his own meats and groceries in a trailer.

Planners Stymied

There was some humorous byplay at the Planning Commission meeting this week.

Discussing the apparent reluctance of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad to go along with local zoning plans, commission member Mario Galuppo jokingly suggested:

"Let's build a 20 foot concrete wall separating the city from the railroad."

"That's a good idea," agreed Thomas Preston, another member of the commission, "but the wall isn't permitted under our zoning ordinance."

Combination Here

Judge David H. Weiss, of Monessen, made a humorous remark at the $25-plate dinner held for Westmoreland County Democratic judicial candidates the other night at Baldoc Hills Country Club.

In speaking about Mayor David L. Lawrence and Judge Samuel. Weiss, two well known Democratic leaders in Allegheny County, who were in attendance, the Monessen Weiss said:

"In Allegheny County, the people have both DAVY and WEISS but here in Westmoreland County the people have this combination in just one man — DAVY WEISS."

Myshin Welcomed

A bit of pleasantries brought a brief respite from the usual run of formality at the Monessen School Board's meeting this week when the new solicitor, Daniel Myshin, was welcomed at his first official meeting by Board President John Lancas.

Myshin, who replaced David H. Weiss upon the latter's appointment as a Westmoreland County Judge, expressed his thanks for being chosen and stated that he would do his best to live up to the Board's expectations.

He Liked It

Robert Pettigrew, sales representative for the Peoples Natural Gas. Co., is chuckling over a cartoon forwarded to him this week.

Captioned "Live Better Electrically," the drawing depicts a condemned man en route to the electric chair.

There's not a gas chamber in sight!

Busy Directors

Acquiring a quorum — four members — is getting to be quite a problem for the Monessen School Board these days.

Last Tuesday's meeting was delayed one hour waiting for the fourth member to arrive. On hand at the starting time of 8 p. m. were John Lancas, John Kossar and Nicholas Cullen. Unable to be there were Romeo Furio, Alexander Kachmarik and Perry Cozza.

The meeting finally got underway upon the arrival at 9 p. m. of Dr. Joseph Dudas.

Van Voorhis Man Suspect in Series Of Armed Robberies

State police at Belle Vernon believe that the arrest of a Van Voorhis man earlier this week may lead to the solution of a series of armed robberies in Washington County in recent months.

Arrested on a suspicion of robbery charge Monday, Alvin Berkick, 23, since has been confronted with at least four holdups.

Informations have been dodged before two different magistrates on four counts of armed robbery against Berkich who, police said, is not talking.

Informations have been lodged Squire Raymond J. Curley, Charleroi, charge Berkich with holding up the Dipsy Doodle Dairy Bar on Route 31 near Monongahela last week and Bill's Drive-In on Route 71 near Bentleyville on Aug. 21.

Informations before Alderman David L. Wilson, Washington, charge Berkich with holding up the Tylerdale Garage on Aug. 23 and Sickle's Service Station on South Franklin St. on Aug. 25. Both of the latter places are in Washington.

Herman Toland was the victim at the Tylerdale Garage and gave up $80. Larry Hennen was the victim at the service station and was robbed of $90.

State police who have been working on the robbery case made the arrest Monday after keeping Berkich under surveillance for a period. Berkich is in jail without bond on the robbery charges and police are continuing their investigation in connection with other recent robbery cases in the county.

Hand Craft Is Recreation for Local Persons

A new activity — hand craft — has been added to the fall-winter program of the Monessen Department of Recreation.

Tom D'Errico, the city's Recreation Director, said that crocheting, knitting, embroidering, punch work and hair pin lace will be among the hand craft courses offered at Memorial Civic Center.

"These classes will be primarily for girls between the ages of 10 and 16, but adults interested in hand craft are also invited to attend," said D'Errico.

A class devoted to the hand making of "knick-knacks" and artificial flowers will be limited to young ladies 16 years and older because of the detailed work involved, D'Errico said.

Mrs. Ruth Tomer will supervise the hand craft program. She resides at 35 Washington Dr. and is the mother of two children.

Samples of hand craft will be on display next week at the G. C. Murphy Co. store to stimulate interest in the program.

Registration dates will be announced later, D'Errico said.

Easter Seal to Hold Institute

One of four Easter Seal public relations institutes, sponsored by The Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., will be held at the Hotel Roosevelt in Pittsburgh next Wednesday, from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Members of the national and Pennsylvania societies for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., and representatives of local affiliated societies will attend. Presentation of techniques for the forthcoming Easter Seal appeal and public relations will feature the institutes.

Representing the Westmoreland County Society will be Mr. Semon H. Stupakoff, Edna L. McFarland, Mrs. A. V. Crookston and Mrs. Andrew Currie.

Reservations for Sons of Italy Fete

Reservations must be made by Tuesday for the 22nd anniversary banquet of the Monessen Sons of Italy Lodge 1764, Frank Bosco, general chairman, announced today.

The banquet will be held Sunday, Sept. 29, beginning at 6:30 p. m. at Twin Coaches.

The affair is also being held as a testimonial for Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of Monessen public schools.

Frederic Feldman Honored at VFW Meeting Here

Frederic Feldman, athletic officer of Allison-Lescanac Post 1190 Veterans of Foreign Wars, was honored at a meeting of the Post last night.

A letter was read from R. J. Moschetti, 27th district VFW commander and former Westmoreland County athletic chairman, who praised the recreation program conducted by Feldman for the local veterans post.

Feldman conducts the annual marble tourney and also supervised the extensive athletic program conducted by Post 1190.

Two other Post 1190 members received state recognition by being named aide-de-camps to the newly-elected state commander, William J. Tepsic. Those named were past commanders, Vincent LaRiccia and Philip Columbus.

Edwin Melenyzer, service officer and Walter Kwolek, senior vice commander, reported on blood donors and a discussion was held concerning the possibility of starting a blood bank in Westmoreland County.

Chaplain Paul Komar reported on hospital visitation and Commander John Hurrianko reported on arrangements which are being made for the shipment of the tank to Monessen for erection at City Park.

Charles Beaumariage, Boy Scout chairman, reported that plans are being considered for the formation of a Scout Explorer post and asked for help from Post members.

County Doctors To Meet Oct. 8

A business and scientific meeting will be held on Oct. 8 at 8:15 p.m. in the Mountain View Hotel near Greensburg by the Westmoreland County branch of the American Academy of General Practice.

Dr. William M. Cooper, clinical associate professor of medicine at the University of Pittsburgh, will be the main speaker.

The meeting will consider diagnosis and management of anemias and blood dyscrasias in general practice.

Physicians may make reservations by contacting Dr. Ameene G. Makdad, secretary, at Greensburg.

Hays Threatened With Gas Leak

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Emergency measures were put into effect Thursday night to prevent an explosion from a gas main leak in the city's Hays section.

Traffic was rerouted away from the Mifflin Road section where the leak occurred and trains moved slowly through the area to lessen the chance of sparks touching off a blast.

A fire crew stood by as Equitable Gas Co. workers repaired the broken main.

On Sept. 10, a structure at 45 Baldwin Road, a few hundred feet from Thursday's leak, was wrecked in an explosion caused by a similar leak in a gas main.

Adams Aiello Salotti DeMaria

The Judicial Issue Well Stated

THE THREE Republican candidates for common pleas judge in Westmoreland County have issued a joint statement which indicates that they have the right understanding of their mission in this crucial election.

They begin by noting that:

"The people of Westmoreland County have become alarmed with the increasing domination of the county government by a partisan clique operating in the name of the Democratic Party" and go on to observe that "this domination has involved the judiciary to the extent that judicial candidates have been selected by a system of promotion."

The Republican nominees hardly needed to say that this "system of promotion" is managed by some intensely practical politicians, and nobody wins "promotion" to judge in Westmoreland County until he has demonstrated over a period of years that he can obey political orders implicitly.

Their standing orders specify that organized rackets must never be seriously molested, that a grand jury must never look into the association between crime and politics and that prevention of cheating at the polls is not the business of the district attorney and the judges of Westmoreland County.

It is no accident that all three of the Democratic candidates for judge, Judges Bauer and Weiss and District Attorney Sculco were schooled in these orders for years in what Mayor Lawrence of Pittsburgh has so aptly termed the "crucible" of the district attorney's office. The "crucible" in this case being a pot, stirred by the bosses of a corrupt machine, in which all traces of independent judgment are cooked out of prospective judges.

* * *

MESSRS. Rial, Pershing and Topper, the Republican nominees, concluded their statement with a series of admirable pledges to all the people of the county. Most noteworthy among these, in our view, is a promise to remove from the courts "all political influence which can so easily degrade and corrupt the proper administration of justice."

The three candidates underscore this promise by pledging themselves:

"To refrain from activity promoting the interests of any political party or person against another while holding that office (of judge) as required by the Canons of Ethics of the American Bar Association."

These are splendid words, and we hope the Republican candidates mean every syllable of them. We also hope they will wage a vigorous campaign on these principles in every corner of Westmoreland County.

This election will determine whether this county's common pleas court for the next ten years is to be the property of a political machine or whether it shall be free to dispense justice under the law.

Landmark for Labor

THE ETHICAL Practices Committee of the AFL-CIO has made an official report on the Teamsters Union and four of its top officers which substantially confirms the findings of the Senate committee headed by Senator McClellan. These are the principal items:

—That President Dave Beck and Vice President James R. Hoffa "used their official union position for personal advantage."

—That Hoffa "engaged in improper activities relating to health and welfare funds."

—That the Teamsters Union has failed to take action against union officials who have engaged in corrupt activities such as the taking of bribes from employers.

—That the union failed to investigate the use by Beck and others of the Fifth Amendment.

—That Hoffa has "associated with, sponsored and promoted the interests of notorious labor racketeers."

—And finally, that the union has been "dominated or substantially influenced by corrupt influences."

This report is bound to stand as a landmark for the labor movement for years to come. Whether the members of the Teamsters will be able to cleanse their union and keep it fit for membership in the AFL-CIO remains to be seen. But it is a great gain for America that the leadership of its greatest labor organization has so honestly and courageously pointed to a cancer in its own body. Undoubtedly this has been hard to do, but in the long run it will be as much a service to working people as it is to the nation as a whole.

Merry-Go-Round—

Americans Win Friends In Greece

(Editor's note—Drew Pearson today continues his report from the explosive Balkans and the near East.)

By DREW PEARSON

ATHENS — Keeping the allegiance of strategic countries in this part of the world is a constant struggle between the destructive effect of John Foster Dulles' booboos and the constructive work of people-to-people friendship. In this key country of Greece, however, we seem to be winning the battle — thanks to three factors:

Mr. Pearson

1. The American colleges in Greece whose alumni have organized against the Kremlin.

2. The basic good sense of the Greek people, who differentiate between American good intentions and official faux pas.

3. A cultural program engineered by Dr. Duncan Emrich of the U. S. Information Service which outcultured Moscow's frantic bid to undercut us in the Balkans.

You have to remember what most congressmen don't remember, that it's a simple matter for Moscow to send all sorts of entertainment to Greece. They hop from Romania and Bulgaria — both Iron Curtain countries — down to Greece at almost no extra expense. U. S. Information in contrast has the expense of transporting cultural programs halfway around the world.

However, when the famed Moscow ballet arrived in Athens it was not a howling success. Its ballet dancers were guarded by a stony-faced Kremlin chaperone who did not permit them to mingle with a single Greek. This is not the way to win friends in Athens.

Ballet vs. Gillespie

In competition, and playing alternate afternoons and evenings in the same theatre, was Dizzy Gillespie's jazz orchestra. It too was no howling success; and the inebriated behavior of some musicians won no friends among Athenian women. So the battle of the ballet vs. Gillespie was a draw, except that the Russian dancers were fascinated with the Negro jazz players.

The American Ballet Theatre, on the other hand, was a tremendous success; while the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, playing in the 2,000-year-old theatre of Herod of Athens alongside the Acropolis, was forced to play more encores than any orchestra in Athens.

Latest contest between Communist and free-world entertainment occurred between the Moscow circus and an American-produced skating pageant called "Holiday on Ice." I went to both. The clowns at the Moscow circus were probably the best in the world, and I have been going to circuses since Wallace-Hagenbach played Parsons, Kans., in 1908. The Russian bear act was better than any animal act my friend John Ringling North has brought to Ringling Brothers since it combined with Barnum and Bailey — even if one bear did defect to the west.

However, "Holiday on Ice" outdrew the Moscow circus, partly because it was American, partly because it was staged to raise money for the four American colleges in Greece and the alumni of these colleges were out hustling tickets.

Colleges vs. Moscow

These schools are Anatolia College for both men and women at Salonika, headed by Carl Compton; the American Farm School near Salonika, founded by Charles House; Athens College for men, headed by Homer Davis; and Pierce College for women in Athens, headed by Raymond Blakney.

Until this year, their alumni had never been organized. Nor had the Greek shipowners been mobilized on the side of people-to-people friendship. However, when Dr. Emrich suggested to John Goulandris, owner of the SS Olympic and SS Queen Frederika, that he stage a party aboard ship for the alumni of the four American colleges, this began a potent alumni organization which beats the hard corps of Communists sent from Moscow.

Furthermore it doesn't cost Congress any money.

Emrich has found various ways of promoting friendship despite the penny-pinchers in Congress. He arranged with Alkemos Gratsos, another shipowner, to let 24 Greek students work their way to the United States every year to study in American universities. This is in addition to the Fulbright scholars.

He has also arranged with Pfeifer and Simon in New York for the publication of pocket editions of famous American books, with the result that Walt Whitman has become a best seller in Greece, together with Charles Lindbergh's "The Spirit of St. Louis" and Stephen Crane's "The Red Badge of Courage."

Lamp Black

From Washington—

This Man J. Edgar Hoover

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

You'd almost think he did it with mirrors, it came off so easily — with the grace of an Althea Gibson and the speed of a Bob Feller.

In the last weary hours of the right-to-vote controversy, with partisan emotions endangering anything that came along Congress did because it had been asked to act — and to act promptly — by a "bureaucrat" who never rewarded a politician with a patronage job in his whole 40 years of service.

Mr. Drummond

Despite its harried eagerness to throw in the towel and rust out of the ring, the Senate approved the requested legislation 24 hours before catching the train — and by the tidy vote of 74 to 2. The next day the House did the same, and its vote of confidence was 315 to 0.

This is something of the measure of J. Edgar Hoover's standing in Washington. While the new legislation protecting the FBI Files from an indiscriminate disclosure which would serious hamper its work seems to most people to be well justified, I know of no official in the government who could have elicited such prompt and overwhelming cooperation by Congress.

Likes Publicity

It is a remarkable achievement and it has not been brought about by sleight of hand.

Edgar Hoover has no passion for anonymity and he welcomes a frontpage headline with the best of them. But massive publicity would have ruined the Director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation if he had not been directing the FBI with skill, competence and absolute integrity. A secretive FBI would be a danger.

A phoney can get along in Washington for a while — sometimes, with the help of a mimeograph machine, a little longer than a while. But he doesn't endure.

Mr. Hoover has endured. He has served under five Presidents. He became director at 29 when, in 1924, Attorney General Harlan F. Stone, later Chief Justice, found the FBI to be the biggest mess in Washington.

He endured because he turned the FBI into a truly professional law-enforcement agency, threw out the political hacks and kept them out, kept FBI methods abreast of the times "The test tube," he has always maintained, "is mightier than the rubber hose."

Symbol of FBI

I have heard Mr. Hoover called a "publicity seeker" and I wouldn't quibble about the phrase. Edgar Hoover is the symbol of the FBI and his publicity is the FBI's publicity. He has frankly sought publicity for himself and for the FBI — and he has survived it. That is the test of his authenticity and that is a sure proof of the solidness of the FBI operation.

All I am trying to say is that in my observation Mr. Hoover has earned his latest vote of confidence by Congress and that he never would have got it if he hadn't earned it.

It is not generally appreciated, I think, that the new legislation implements the recent Supreme Court decision in the Jencks case, is not at variance with it. What it does is to prevent loose interpretation of the Supreme Court ruling by lower courts and establish orderly procedures. Thus the new law assures to the accused the right to FBI information that could be used for impeaching a witness, but not the right to see all information of general interest to the defense.

This is in line with the words of the Supreme Court which re-affirmed the basic principle of Anglo-Saxon law that the accused is entitled to inspect "relevant statements. . .of reports of government witnesses touching the subject matter of their testimony at the trial."

What made new legislation necessary was that the subsequent rulings of lower courts went beyond the Jencks decision and were having the effect of opening up FBI files indiscriminately.

The law now provides.

That the defense is entitled only to those prosecution reports that are relevant to the testimony of a witness.

That the prosecutor may show the FBI material to the judge in secret so he can determine which parts are relevant.

That there will be no disclosure of FBI information before a witness has testified.

The effect of the law is two-fold: to guarantee a historic right to the accused but safeguard the sources and investigative methods of the FBI.

The Attorney General has described the new law as "very satisfactory." Edgar Hoover is the man who got it passed so quickly.

The Westmoreland County Commissioners at noon today announced they have received no word or advice from United States marshals authorizing them to impound ballot boxes in Westmoreland County containing votes cast at the general election in 1926 in which William B. Wilson, Democrat, is contesting the election of Senator William S. Vare, Republican.

Belle Vernon is gradually emerging from a somewhat chaotic condition, so far as its streets are concerned and in a few weeks hopes to have everything shipshape for uninterrupted travel. During the greater part of the summer, due to permanent improvements of State and Main Sts., and work at the bridge entrance, it has been in a bad way with its streets.

Emil Pehonsky, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pehonsky of Aliquippa Ave., left this morning for Bethany College where he has entered school.

Boy Scouts of Westmoreland and Fayette Counties are to be organized under a single County Council, it was announced today by John E. Kunkle, president of the Westmoreland Council. Under the plan, the Westmoreland Council will be expanded to include the Fayette territory, which hitherto has been without a county organization.

A party honoring two employes of the Pittsburgh Steel Co. clerical force, Gertrude Sloan and Margaret Jamieson, was held last week in the girls' recreation room. The party was a complete surprise to both girls, each thinking the affair had been arranged for the others.

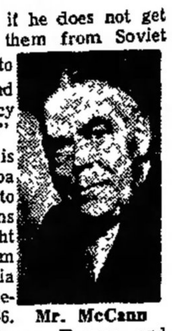
Behind The News—

Tunisia President Puts United States on Spot

By CHARLES M. McCANN

President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has put the United States on the spot with a demand for arms.

He threatens, if he does not get them, to seek them from Soviet Russia and to join Egypt and Syria in a policy of "neutralism."



Mr. McCann

The trouble is that Bourguiba frankly wants to use any weapons he gets to fight France, from which Tunisia gained its independence in 1956.

Relations between France and its former protectorate in Northwest Africa have been getting progressively worse for several months.

Recently there have been serious clashes between France and Tunisian troops along the frontier between Tunisia and Algeria.

Tunisia Shielding Rebels

It is no secret that big supplies for the Algerian rebels are moving through Tunisia. Algerian rebels operate from the Tunisian side of the border. Rebel bands flee into Tunisia to escape French punitive forces.

France long ago stopped supplying Bourguiba with weapons. It also has succeeded in blocking proposed weapons supplies from Italy and Belgium.

Bourguiba has been a strong supporter of the United States and its allies in the fight against the expansion of international Communism.

If he did seek weapons from Russia — possibly in a relay through Egypt — and turned Tunisia toward "neutralism," it would be a most serious threat to the free world in a new area.

Both Tunisia, on the northeast of Algeria, and Morocco, on the west, want France to grant outright independence to Algeria.

International Group Seen

Bourguiba has shown interest in the formation of a Northwest African group of countries which would include Tunisia, Morocco, an independent Algeria and possibly Libya, which fronts Tunisia on the east.

France was highly suspicious of the visit Vice President Richard M. Nixon paid to Tunisia, early this year on his African tour. It was outraged when Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.) demanded in a speech in the Senate on July 2 that the United States stop supporting France in its attempt to hold on to Algeria.

Any decision by the United States to supply Tunisia with arms undoubtedly would result in a crisis in French-American relations.

Bourguiba is well aware of that. But he seems to feel that he is in a strong position in demanding that the United States let him have weapons or face the prospect of opening up a new area of Communist penetration.

The Lighter Side—

First Hand Report on Asiatic Flu Symptoms

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP)—Memo from a man who passed through the 1918 epidemic of Spanish flu, who looks forward with interest to the Asian flu, and is now hard at work on his annual job of playing host to the mid-Manhattan flu:

Ladies and gentlemen, those of you who have not had the opportunity to entertain the flu personally probably will be interested in getting one person's list of symptoms. It is not hard, really, to tell when you're getting this ailment. Not for me, anyway.

The first indication is a vague unrest of body and mind that cannot be described exactly, but it so affects you that you react with vigor to human contacts. Someone may ask you a tender question, such as, "May I bring you a cup of coffee?" If you reply, "Stop shouting! Can't you see I'm busy?" That's it.

Get First Hurts

Late that afternoon, you get the first of your physical hurts and experience not only reaction to them but the reaction of other persons to your reaction. Maybe you get a dull aching in the calves of your legs.

When you get home from work, you mutter, "My legs have been hurting all afternoon." Your wife replies, "Oh stop stalling, and go ahead and hang those drapes like you promised." This kind of response is a reliable early indication of the onset of flu.

That night, you, wake from a rather fitful sleep with the feeling that someone is tightening a heavy vice on every joint in your body. You toss and turn and take an aspirin to stay the pain and you don't sleep the rest of the night. You go to work with eyes puffy and hair awry and tell the first co-worker you meet that you feel bad.

He invariably replies: "You LOOK fine."

Must Be Ready

When you walk, it seems an effort. If you remark to someone around the office that you feel tired all the time, you must be ready for a reply like this:

"What you have is probably an unconscious conflict."

"I've got a what?"

"It's freudian. Comes from a traumatic experience in your youth."

It is better to sit down while you're thinking this one over. You may feel a bit dizzy. That night your aching continues and you may wake up sweating and then begin to shake until your teeth rattle.

If you go to work the next day, you probably will find it difficult to lift your arms around midmorning. And if you're writing something like this, you're likely to think suddenly something like "Oh botheration" and then give up and drop everything right in the middle of the. . .

The Woman's View—

At Your Service

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP)—This week in Manhattan:

Three young New York men opened a business which is the answer to every busy woman's prayer. It's sort of a maid, butler, shopper, handyman, baby-sitter service all in one.

The idea of "Reception Ltd." is to be errand boy for people too busy to do such chores as shopping for gifts, writing letters to the folks, hunting for an apartment.

Running this partnership are Harold Buckley, a sometime actor from Connecticut; Richard McCabe, an Ohioan, and Whit Payton, an Illinois native, both in public relations.

All Kinds of Service

They will answer the phone, forecast the weather for your vacation spot (courtesy of some aid from the U.S. Weather Bureau), stand in line for tickets for "My Fair Lady" or other hits, give advice on etiquette, make restaurant reservations.

They will send flowers on an anniversary — remember the anniversary for that matter—rent a mink coat for a special occasion, keep a duplicate key in case you get locked out of your residence, take care of baby, dog, cat or parakeet, get you a maid, do your Christmas shopping, write thank-you notes and give advice on what to wear when and where.

"We stuck our neck out on offering fashion tips," said Buckley. "First day we were in business, a lady called to say she was leaving for Spain and what clothes should she take.

"I told her I'd check around and call back. She said she didn't have time. . .for me to go ahead and guess.

Did Just That

"I did. Told her to take pastel cottons for day and dark linens for night. Whether I'm right remains to be seen. . .we may lose the client when she gets back."

Eventually the trio plans to cater to any one, anywhere who wants an errand done in New York. The charge for the general service is $25 a month, which puts the organization on 24-hour call. But the client naturally also foots the bill for maid, theater tickets, plane reservations or what-have-you.

"The idea grew out of conversation at a party," said Buckley. "We all were talking about how little time people have for chores. There are similar services in Paris and San Francisco, we since have learned."

Betty Kay Jadyk Becomes Bride of Charles Rosco Jr.

Betty Kay Jadyk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Jadyk of 18 Myers Ave., became the bride of Charles Rosco Jr. in St. Mary Greek Catholic Church on Sept. 8, at 2:30 in the afternoon. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rosco of 413 Clarendon Ave.

The Rev. Andrew Parvensky heard the exchange of double ring vows before an altar decorated with fall flowers. The aisle of the church was lined with white crash and the family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Before repeating her nuptial vows the bride presented a bouquet of flowers before the statue of the Blessed Mother.

The bride wore a lace gown styled with a fitted bodice, square scalloped neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the wrist. The full skirt was of lace and was edged in pleated nylon. It formed a full train in the back.

Her tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones held a fingertip veil. The bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of white pompons.

Maid of honor was Carol Jadyk, sister of the bride. She wore a gown of lilac taffeta with a torso waistline and a full net skirt. It was styled floor length. She wore a matching tiara and carried a bouquet of lilac shade asters.

Matron of honor was Mrs. William Dacko, who wore a peach colored gown styled like that worn by the maid of honor. She wore a matching tiara and carried a peach colored aster bouquet.

Rosalie Martucci was bridesmaid, and she was attired identically to Mrs. Dacko. The flower girl, Charlotte Rosco, also wore peach color.

Best man was Francis Santora, and the ushers were Joe Wiker and Thomas Dalfonso, who served as master of ceremonies.

The mother of the bride wore a pink lace ensemble with an orchid corsage. The mother of the bridegroom wore a blue print dress with a glamelia corsage.

After the ceremony there was a dinner at the Slovak Home and in the evening there was a reception at 7 o'clock at the home.

The bridegroom's sister, Mrs. William Evancho baked the wedding cake which centered the bridal table.

The couple left later in the day for a motor trip. They are now living in their own apartment at 413 Clarendon Ave.

Both young people attended local schools. The bride is employed at Mickey's Dairy Bar and her husband is employed at the Clairton mill.

Card Club Is Entertained

Mrs. Joseph Shandor of Donora entertained members of the Sunshine Club recently at her home. Mrs. Edward Petrus was hostess for the evening.

Cards were the diversion and winning prizes were Mrs. Dino Forlini, Mrs. Steve Pokomo and Mrs. Anthony Shemony.

Mrs. Shandor substituted for Mrs. Charles Pokomo, who is in the Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

Luncheon was served and Mrs. James Piper of Monongahela was named next hostess.

ON THE BALL

All Roads Lead to Pittsburgh Tomorrow

Tomorrow's the day, practically everybody and his brother will be in Pittsburgh, or to be exact, in Pitt Stadium, to watch the 1957 edition of the Panthers take on the talented Oklahoma Sooners . . . Many fans feel the Panthers can stop the Sooners just as they did in 1953 when the Pittmen tied Oklahoma, 7-7, the last time Coach Bud Wilkinson's lads came out on other than the winning end of a game . . . Early line on the game has Oklahoma favored by seven but we're going to go along with those "many fans" and pick the Panthers but we're not giving or taking points, just picking Pitt to win.

A short while back some information presented here listed Monessen as winning the WPIAL title in 1929 and 1930 but correct information reveals the Greyhounds won the crown only in 1930 . . . Notre Dame will have a district flavor this season with Bob Gaydos of Donora, Ed Sullivan of McKeesport, Bob Ward of German Township . . . St. Vincent College's Bearcats really surprised in their opener with Indiana Teachers with that 40-0 win but run into a jinx team in Thiel this Saturday. Thiel holds a 5-2 edge in the series . . . Speaking of St. Vincent, Al DeLuca has a 40-29-5 record in 10 years of coaching, the Bearcats moving to an unbeaten season and their only bowl game under his guidance.

As Steve put it, "this is not a gift (a plaque) this is a citation when it comes from these boys, the Vets." . . . VFW Little League pilots George Bonari and James Caputo were equally moved by their awards but the top award of the evening should have gone to the ladies auxiliary of Post 1190 for the delicious meal they prepared . . . Incidentally, some of the Vet officers missed the fete as they were "covering" the swimming exhibition at Ninth Street Park by the "fat man" who had been on display here for three days, all 700 pounds of him.

Fans Misled on Windber's Strength

Some valley grid fans were certainly misled about Windber. They had the Ramblers tabbed as a breather foe for Monessen when actually the Greyhound coaches expected that to be one of their toughest tilts and still figure they won't have many games more rugged this year . . . Our pal, Thomas Barbero, Faculty Manager of Athletics at Monongahela, with whom we had wonderful relations for several years, has been making the rounds of the valley explaining the football rules to various Lions Clubs. He recently addressed the Roscoe, Belle Vernon and Fayette City clubs on successive weeks . . . He's one of the wittiest speakers we've ever been privileged to hear and mixes the humor with timely words of wisdom.

Groat Thomas

PIRATE STARS 'SIGN' — Dick Groat and Frank Thomas, Pirate baseballers, oblige a group of Monessen PONY Leaguers at the annual banquet in the Pythian Center here last night with an autographing session. The Pirates captain-shortstop and the first-baseman outfielder, made quite a hit.

Pirates in PONY Fete 'Hit' Role

Pittsburgh Pirates Frank Thomas and Dick Groat stole the show at the annual PONY League banquet in the Pythian Center here last night.

Chatting freely with the PONY players and their parents, both before, during and after the fete, the two Buccos made a big hit then climaxed the evening with informative talks.

Thomas told the over 100 persons present that "hustle was important for young athletes" and advised the PONY players "to listen to the advice of others." The Buc outfielder-third baseman-first baseman also advised the Parents to attend the games and show interest in the youth programs.

Groat in his short address tabbed "PONY League as an education for the future," and cited teamwork as the key to success. He reminded the parents that the boys learn respect for authority from such programs as PONY baseball.

Others on the speaking program include Frank Ezerski, city solicitor, representing Mayor Hugo Parente, who praised the PONY program and stated that the lesson learned there would be valuable in later life; Al Ferrari, Region 2 director for PONY ball; Dr. Joseph Pallone, Monessen superintendent of schools, Tom D'Errico, director of the Recreation program here; Stephen Pfiester, chairman of the recreation board, and Clair Brown, sports editor of The Daily Independent.

Following the delicous meal and the speaking program a question and answer period on the Pirates followed with Groat and Thomas supplying the answers.

Groat and Thomas then presented the various awards to the players and managers.

Bellmar Ekes Out 6 - 0 Win Over Centerville

Bellmar High drove 49 yards into paydirt with the second half kickoff then hung on tenaciously to nip Centerville, 6-0, before 3,500 fans at the Hurricane Stadium last night.

Quarterback Larry Petras dove into the endzone from the one-yard stripe for the game's only touchdown.

After that, the visiting Centerville Wildcats threatened repeatedly, once advancing to the half-yard line. On every occasion, the stout Bellmar line proved its mettle by halting the TD efforts.

The victory was the first of the year for the Bellmar boys who dropped their opener a week ago at Perryopolis. For Centerville, the setback spoiled its season debut.

Guard Frank Burgess of Bellmar took the second half kickoff, which slid off the foot of kicker Chuck Henck. Burgess grabbed the ball at the Bellmar 46 and returned to the Centerville 49.

That touched off the only scoring drive of the night. Reginald Kostelac, Lou Greco and Dennis Swiantek ripped off sizeable gains behind good blocking to move for three first downs to the Centerville three.

From that point, Petras took two attempts to punch it over. Ron Coates' try at conversion went wide, but it wasn't needed.

Centerville almost came right back. Switching suddenly to the double-wing formation from the T, the Cats completely fooled Bellmar with a double-reverse play. Paul Stipkovich wound up with the ball and raced all the way from his own 23 to the Bellmar 31. Only speedy Larry Rankin of the Canes was able to catch up with the ball carrier to bring him down.

Moments later the visitors were knocking on the door again. After losing 14 yards on three running plays, Bellmar sent Coates back to punt. However he fumbled a poor snap from center and was snowed under at the 21.

From this point the Wildcats slammed to the half-yard line before running out of steam. The sturdy Canes held on fourth down when the visitors had only a yard to go.

At this point, an unsportsmanlike conduct penalty got Bellmar out to the 16, but Centerville held and the Canes had to punt.

Taking over at the Bellmar 46, Centerville got as far as the 17 before stalling. It was the visitor's last serious threat.

The first half was nip and tuck with most of the play near midfield.

Centerville did threaten once after blocking a Coates punt which was set up on another bad pass from center. Taking over at the Bellmar 31, the Cats could move only to the 25 before handing the ball over on downs.

The Canes staged a threat of their own midway through the second period. Rankin set up the effort by returning a punt 28 yards to the Centerville 35. After moving to the 16, Bellmar yielded the ball on downs.

'Hounds-Monongahela In Big 5 Opener at Wildcat Field Tonight

Allen to Replace Aldrich in Greyhound Lineup: Osborne May Supply Kicking

Admittedly worried over tonight's scheduled encounter with Monongahela's revitalized Wildcat eleven, Coach Armand Niccolai today named his starting eleven for the Big Five Conference opener at Monongahela.

Satisfied with the offensive eleven over last week's showing in a 38-37 loss to Windber, "Nick" will start the same eleven as took the field against the Ramblers with the exception of Ed Allen, who will replace injured Jim (Bobo) Aldrich, currently nursing a side injury at Charleroi-Monessen Hospital.

Wendell Osborne, 180-pound sophomore, may break into one of the line posts over his play in practice this week. Osborne may also be the answer to the extra-point kicker problem.

In the kicking department this week Niccolai has been using Osborne, Pauline and Pacarellla. "Osborne really surprised me", said the 'Hound mentor and he may get the nod.

Several defensive changes are definitely planned by the Greyhound coaching staff but they will not be revealed until game time.

Coach Al Cree, of the 'Cats, now out of the hospital after a siege of kidney trouble will go with Mike Bove and Ken Miller or Larry Pritchard at ends, Jerry Fotik and Larry Putnak at tackles, Ron Saunders and Larry Matus at the guard posts and Jim Voelker at center, on the line.

The backfield will show Jim Robertson at quarterback, Bob Johnson and Mike McCurdy, son of Greyhound aide Harry McCurdy, at the halves and Milton Diaz at fullback.

Rostraver HS Battles W. Newton

A neighborhood rivilary of long standing will do a repeat at Rostraver Stadium tonight as West Newton and Rostraver High Schools lock horns under the lights at 8 o'clock.

Going into the tilt, Rostraver will be the underdog, especially since the Lep team has been crippled following an opening game loss to Ellsworth High last week. Ronnie Phelps, one of five returning letterman suffered a broken leg and is currently recuperating in Charleroi-Monessen Hospital, while senior Ronnie Peto is also out for a considerable time due to a cracked bone in his leg.

West Newton on the other hand, is in better shape having opened with a surprising 13-13 tie with Bentleyville and no players lost due to the "injury bug."

A capacity crowd is expected at the new Rostraver stadium for the game. It will be West Newton's home clash despite playing on the Leopards' field.

Coach Wade Bender of Rostraver has named the following starting lineup for tonight showing Ralph Synder and Harry Hale at ends, Walt Karbowsky and Tom Strong at tackles, Allen Siech and Steve Matova at the guards, Captain John Bankston at center with quarterback Bob Keith, a top passer, at quarterback. Gus Allen and David Burkes at halfbacks and Clyde Kuhn at fullback.

Coaches Fred Yartin, former Greyhound and Bob Cochenour will field almost the same lineup that started last week against the Bears. The ends will show Lander and DeNoble; at tackle Parker and Page and the guards McCorkle and Mauk. The center again will be Trillow. The backfield will be made up of quarterback, Leone; G. Lander or Moorhead at fullback; Dixon at left half and Specht, Bryner and Snowden seeing action at right halfback. Otto Leone and Lloyd Mauk will captain the team.

Roster Increase Makes Pennant Races 'Farce'

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)—A horde of minor leaguers are getting a last-month "look" in the major leagues today and it's a practice which makes a complete farce out of the major league pennant races.

The baseball campaigns are predicated on a 25-man squad from the 31st day of the season until the end of August. But as of Sept. 1 each club can carry 40 players until season's end to get a line on the prospects for "next year."

Yet this is the most crucial part of the season, when the pennants are being decided, and baseball thus permits usage of rookies who can knock a contender out of the race.

Rookie Helped Detroit

It has happened. In 1940, Detroit brought up a strong-armed young rookie named Floyd Giebell, who never did anything else, and his unfamiliar slants beat Cleveland out of the flag. Even players fighting for a pennant are wary of taking a toehold against a wild young freshman throwing aspirin tablets.

National League President Warren Giles and American League President Will Harridge annually letter the various clubs to remind them of the presumption that they will not use these "look-see" rookies against the contenders. But they are used.

"I couldn't care less," said one second division manager. "This season is over for us and all I'm interested in is next year."

But baseball, by legislation, could help to keep the last month honest with a written rule that no "look see" rookies could be used against any team still alive in the pennant race. And, if the game wanted to be fair to the fans, it would prohibit waiver deals after Sept. 1—the date after which no player obtained by waivers is eligible for the Series.

Strangely enough, these players can be decisive factors in deciding who wins the pennant. You have two fresh examples currently in Sal Maglie, obtained by the Yankees from the Dodgers, and Bob Kuzava, purchased from Columbus by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Frank Lane, general manager of the Cardinals, was frank that he bought the left-handed Kuzava because he needed his southpaw talents for the stretch drive. Yet Kuzava, who conceivably could win the pennant for the Cards, is not eligible for the World Series.

Maglie is simply another example in a long line of Yankee deals which have "bought" the pennant in the last month of the season. Maglie will not be eligible for the Series, yet in the Yankee stretch drive he has won two and saved two others.

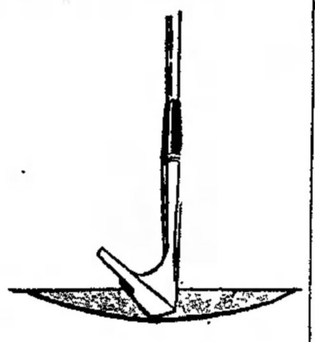
DOCTORING YOUR GOLF

By CARY MIDDLECOFF



Sand-Trap Trouble

I have a suggestion for sand-trap trouble: practice some sand-trap shots without a ball.

Take your sand wedge and plunge into a practice sand trap. Settle your feet firmly in the sand as you would for a regular sand shot. Now swing through and try to take out a divot of sand about a half inch thick and about four to six inches long. Make that divot really fly up and out of the trap! Repeat this about 12 to 20 times or until you're able to take out sand divots of uniform depth and length.

After a while, try the same thing — but with a ball roughly in the center of the divot you figure on taking out of the trap.

Play some of these mock sand-trap shots, and watch your sand-trap swing improve. In addition to this, watch your morale zoom higher. It can't fail!

Parkermen Await Green Bay Tilt

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (UP)—Coach Buddy Parker had a squad of 39 players assembled here today as the Pittsburgh Steelers prepared to meet the Green Bay Packers, but the figure may be more or less by the end of the day.

Parker, who admitted he has not given up attempts to make more trades, sent his squad through a long workout Thursday on a soggy gridiron. The temperature tumbled to the low 40s during the workout as Parker primed his charges for the final exhibition game Saturday night against the Packers.

Quarterback Earl Morrall still had not checked into camp. His arrival from San Francisco was expected at any time.

Meanwhile, Parker has made so many trades the past few days that many of the players scheduled to start in the season opener against the Washington Redskins at Pittsburgh Sept. 29 still have not had a chance to meet one another.

Walsh Victory

NEW YORK (UP) — It was a great day for the Walsh family Thursday at Belmont Park when Independence won the Broad Hollow Steeplechase Handicap. The son of the Irish-bred Nasrullah is owned by Mrs. Mike Walsh, trained by her husband, and was ridden by their nephew, Tommy.

Braves, Yankees Nominate Best Hurlers for 'Operation Lock-up'

By FRED DOWN

The New York Yankees and Milwaukee Braves put their best pitchers forward tonight when they set out on "operation lock-up" against the Boston Red Sox and Chicago Cubs.

The Yankees, who can clinch Casey Stengel's eighth American League pennant in nine years by winning four of their last eight games even if the Chicago White Sox win all their 10, are sending Whitey Ford against the Red Sox while the Braves, whose "magic number" is six, have named Warren Spahn to start in quest of his 20th victory against the Cubs.

Barring an unforeseen turnabout, these are the same pitchers who will be on the mound on Wednesday, Oct. 2, when the World Series opens at Yankee Stadium.

Face Brewer, Rush

Ford, 10-4, will be opposed by right-hander Tom Brewer, who has a 16-12 record for the season but has beaten the Yankees only twice in his career. Spahn, 19-10, is expected to draw Bob Rush, 6-15, as his opponent.

The White Sox, who nurtured faint hopes with Thursday's 7-3, 13-inning triumph over the Washington Senators, start a three-game series at Cleveland with Dick Donovan, 16-5, facing Don Mossi, 10-9.

The Cardinals, whose No. 1 objective is to stay close until their three-game series in Milwaukee, Sept. 23-24-25, have Vinegar Bend Mizell, 10-8, going against Cincinnati's Don Gross, 6-9.

Otherwise, the chief interest as the races near their end, centers on the race for the NL batting title between Stan Musial and Willie Mays. Stan leads, .343 to .338, but the New York Giant star has the advantage of not having to worry about a pennant race.

Williams Conceded Crown

The once-spectacular AL batting race is now being conceded to 39-year-old Ted Williams who has opened a 12-point lead over Mickey Mantle, .377 to .365.

The White Sox kept plugging away in Thursday's only major league activity, scoring four runs in the 13th inning to cut the Yankee lead to six games. Nelson Fox, the tough little second-baseman, broke a 3-3 tie with his fourth hit, a two-run homer, and the White Sox added two more on a homer by Minnie Minoso, Jim Landis' double and Ted Beard's single.

Pirates Starting Final Home Stay

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates begin their last home stand at Forbes Field when they meet the New York Giants tonight in the first of three games.

Ronnie Kline (8-16) will serve them up for the Pirates while Ray Crone (7-0) gets the call for the Giants.

The Pirates, who probably will finish in last place for the sixth time in the past seven seasons, will meet the Giants Saturday night and again Sunday afternoon to lower the Forbes Field curtain.

Tackles Big Headache For Johnny Popovich

WAYNESBURG, Sept. 18 — Former Monessen High School and St. Vincent College gridder Johnny Popovich, now head football mentor at Waynesburg College, is "tackling" his problem these days, or rather, tackles are what he needs to assure the success of the Yellowjackets this season.

Johnny Popovich

As of right now there is only one experienced man at this vital spot on the line. He is Jim Merchant who is back in action again after having to sit out the past season.

Returning guards include Gene Butalla and Mike Pantely with John George and Melvin Carlson back at center.

Monessen's Ed Galaski

Four experienced gridders —Ed Galaski, of Monessen, Bill Minehart, Mike Jaczeko and Bob Mazie — will hold end assignments.

Coach Popovich indicates that his starting backfield shapes up as one of the strong elements of the 1957 season. Such veteran balltoters as ex-Brownsville ace Don Bartolomucci, Art Walker and Norm Williams are showing fine form.

Another returnee, Ron Mankey, will remain a question mark until he recuperates fully from an automobile accident injury.

Still another question mark is George Terembes, a powerhouse ground-gainer from Jefferson High, who has not yet reported for practice. Terembes was married several weeks ago and has not signified his football intentions.

As usual the flock of frosh candidates will carry considerable burden during the campaign which gets underway against Geneva on Sept. 28.

Frosh tackle prospects include Ron Sands, from South Fayette; Art Taylor and Jim Duffy, both from Canonsburg.

Another Canonsburg boy, Tony Balsami, will be trying for center.

Ex-Hound Jim Todd

Freshman candidates also include Rich Bechtold, from Massanutten prep school; Jerry Clingan, voted North Union's most valuable player last year; Herman Gig, from Canonsburg; Don Stimmel from Uniontown; Ed Schreiber, from MacDonald and Jim Todd from Monessen.

Despite the weak spots, Coach Popovich says that team spirit is very high, and the boys are cooperating to the fullest extent. In the Waynesburg tradition, this year's squad promises to provide some rugged opposition for any team.

Aging Archie 7-5 Choice in Tonight's Bout

LOS ANGELES (UP) — A superbly-conditioned Archie Moore attempts to stave off the ravages of time tonight as he enters the ring a 7-5 choice to retain his world light-heavyweight crown against 22-year-old Tony Anthony.

For Moore, it will be the fifth title defense of the championship he won in 1952—and some say it may be the easiest.

Tall Tony has had only 35 fights in his whole life and, while knocking out 23 victims, himself has been kayoed four times.

The bout starts at 10 p.m. e.d.t., and will be nationally-televised and broadcast.

"This is the chance I've been waiting for," was the final pre-fight statement of young Anthony.

Last Outing Dull

If he is to win the crown he'll have to do better than he did in his last outing — a dull 10-round draw with Yvon Durelle in Detroit last June. That bout was seen on a national television show, too, and it did nothing to enhance the Anthony reputation.

Tony's biggest accomplishment to date was the three-round kayo of Chuck Spieser earlier this year. His 23 kayos mostly have been over comparative unknowns. And he has been knocked out by a couple of guys named, not Joe, but Miguel Mendevil and Jacques Royer-Crecy. Also by a pair of good battlers named Willie Troy and Bobby Boyd.

But he hasn't lost a fight since the kayo by Boyd in 1955 and, until the draw with Durelle, he had won seven in a row, with five of these knockouts.

Some say this is the crossroads for Archie. His age is some place between 40 and 44 and, by all standards, he should be through.

Archie Confident

"I not only expect to keep my title," says Arch, "but I hope to go on fighting for at least another five years. And I think I'll try my luck in the heavyweight again, too."

College Football Breaks Out with Rush in Top Games This Weekend

By HARRY WISMER

NEW YORK (UP) — Football breaks out with a rush this weekend on the intercollegiate front. There's more than the usual amount of top contests for season's openers and for the first time, an exceptional number of night games on the schedule for Saturday.

Tonight the Air Force Academy steps out of the rompers and moves into the big time. The opposition: UCLA. The Flyers are taking the place of Florida, forced to cancel because of "flu." Too big an assignment for Buck Shaw's air cadets. The Uclans 27-6.

The game that is creating the most national interest on Saturday is Oklahoma at Pittsburgh. The Sooners are going after another unbeaten season, led by halfback Clendon Thomas, the nation's top scorer, it will be 41 in a row for Oklahoma, 28-14.

Navy will be much too good for Boston College at Boston. The Middies, 28-6.

South Features Rivalries

Rivalries flare in the South. Georgia Tech entertains Kentucky at Atlanta. The home territory rates the Yellow Jackets a touchdown favorite, 14-7.

Jim Tatum's North Carolina Tarheels are much improved. They'll reverse last year's result against North Carolina State. The Tarheels, 12, the Wolfpack 6

Duke, called to win the conference title should have no problem with South Carolina and rates a two-touchdown edge at Columbia, S.C. Blue Devils 21, Gamecocks 7.

Those Mountaineers from West Virginia will be too rough and tough for the boys from Charlottesville. West Virginia 28, Virginia 13.

At Nashville, Tenn., the Commodores of Vanderbilt boasting Art Guepe's versatile offense will beat Missouri under Frank Broyles for the first time, Vanderbilt 13, Missouri 12.

Texas A&M Meets Maryland

There's a lot of action in the Southwest. Bear Bryant's Texas Aggies, ranked among the nation's best and will trim Maryland, 27-10.

Baylor's Bears, another one of the great teams from down Texas way, should have a real romp with Villanova. The score, Baylor 35, Villanova 7.

Playing at Atlanta on Saturday night, the Longhorns of Texas are rated just a bit too strong for the University of Georgia. The margin, a slim one: Texas 10, Georgia 7.

At Houston, the Harold Lahar coached Cougars will give Miami a hard fight, but they haven't got the line to hold the Hurricanes. Miami 20, Houston 13.

At Dallas, Texas Christian will be too good for Kansas. The Jayhawks are building but still have not got enough. TCU 14, Kansas 7.

There'll be a rousing battle at Baton Rouge with Rice coming from behind to defeat Louisiana State by the margin of a field goal. Rice 10, LSU 6.

SMU Faces California

Towards the West Coast, at Berkeley, Calif., the Golden Bears are well advanced under Pete Elliott. Bud Wilkinson's former aid doing a fine job. They'll beat Southern Methodist. California 20, SMU 14.

At Seattle, there will be a good contest. Colorado ranks second to Oklahoma in the Big Eight and will give the Huskies plenty of action. Close but Washington 14, Colorado 13.

Washington State plays at Nebraska, and the Cornhuskers will win at home. Nebraska 13, Washington State 6.

Oregon State, called the best in the West, plays Southern California at Los Angeles. It could be the toughest game of the year for them. Our information says State will beat the Trojans, 10-7.

In other games, Cincinnati will take Dayton, 20-14; and Detroit will beat Marquette, 20-14.

Motorcycles Set For Heidelberg

PITTSBURGH, Sept. (Special)—Top national motorcycle riders will try to break the world five-mile record for the second time this season here at Heidelberg Raceway this Sunday afternoon.

California Rider Joe Leonard put the Keystone state in the world record books when he turned the five-mile Heidelberg course in 4 minutes, 11.2 seconds, last June. The American Motorcycle Association made the record official this month.

This Sunday, Everett Brashear of Beaumont, Tex., heads the field of national cyclists back to Heidelberg for another crack at the record. Brashear turned in a five-mile time of 4 minutes, 10.08 seconds at Heidelberg in 1956 but the record could not be made official because a white line had not been placed on the inside of the track.

But the white line will be here this time when they take another crack at the record at 2:30 p. m. Time trials start at 1 p. m.

Parker Begins Using 'Big Stick'

By RUDY CERNKOVIC

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The day after Buddy Parker was named head coach of the Pittsburgh Steelers, club ticket manager Joe Carr received a 12-inch ruler which had been attached to an order for a season box.

"Tell Buddy to use a stick bigger than this one," advised a note from the purchaser.

For the first 10 days he was with the Steelers, Parker gave no indication he was carrying a "big stick." But after he took charge and directed the Steelers to a 20-14 exhibition victory over the team he quit last month, the Detroit Lions, Parker went into action.

He stunned Lynn Chandnois, former Michigan State halfback who starred with the Steelers seven seasons, by handing him his walking papers. He sent Don Owens, a promising rookie tackle, to the Washington Redskins in exchange for fullback Dale Atkeson.

In a space of 24 hours he picked up five former Detroit Lions. Fullback Jug Girard, who had been traded by the Lions to San Francisco now wears Steeler spangles.

Pick Lions Rookies

Quarterback Jack Kemp, end Bob Gunderman and tackle Dave Liddick, rookies obtained from The Lions, also figure in Parker's rebuilding plans. He obtained one-time Lion Bill Bowman from the San Francisco Forty-Niners for fullback help.

But the biggest Steeler player deal in years came after the Chicago Bears trounced Pittsburgh for the second time in pre-season play. Parker expressed dissatisfaction with the signal-calling of Ted Marchibroda, and Jack Scarbath.

Reluctantly, he sent veteran linebacker Marv Matuszak and two Steeler No. 1 first-round picks to the Forty-Niners for quarterback Earl Morrall and guard Mike Sandusky. Morrall, a Michigan State alumnus, was San Francisco's No. 1 draft choice in 1956.

World Plowing Title At Stake in Peebles, Ohio; Champ Retires

By BERNERD H. BUTTLER

PEEBLES, Ohio (UP) — World plowing supremacy was at stake here today. Expert plowmen from all parts of the globe met in friendly "sodbusting" competition in the final event of the two-day 1957 world plowing contest.

The flags of 14 nations fluttered from 27 tractor-driven, two - furrow plows of all sizes and shapes lined up at half-acre sites for the sod-plowing event.

Representing the United States in the competition were Lawrence Goettemoeller, 46, St. Henry, Ohio and John Daniels, 35, Mulberry Grove, Ill.

Goettemoeller won his second straight national level land championship here at the U.S. plowing contest which preceded the world event.

Goettemoeller and Daniels were out to win for America the Golden Plow Trophy and her first world title in international competition.

The same idea was in the minds and hearts of champions from Canada, Great Britain, New Zealand, France, West Germany, Italy, Norway, Belgium, The Netherlands, Denmark, Sweden, Finland, and Northern Ireland.

The decision of Hugh Barr, Northern Ireland, not to compete this year assured the world of a new plowing champion. Barr won the title three straight years in the five years of competition.

All but New Zealand had two men entered in the matches which began Thursday with stubble plowing over half-acre sites.

The somewhat dry soil proved a challenge to the foreign experts, accustomed to cutting furrows in the much damper soil of their homelands. Most of them said the two and one half hour time limit was "too little" because of the soil conditions.

Goettemoeller and Daniels admitted the soil was a "little hard" but apparently had little trouble and seemed satisfied with their own performances.

Contestants were permitted three hours in today's final phase of the contest. The two-day matches were in level land plowing only.

A panel of 14 judges, one from each competing country, will decide the winner. Plowmen were judged on neatness, uniformity and straightness of furrow, burying of stubble and sod, proper furrow depth and other points.

Penalties were assessed for going beyond the allotted time but no points were added for finishing ahead of time. Total possible points are 100.

The Master Plowmen's Banquet tonight officially closes the four-day exposition, which covers a 2,500 acre area.

An estimated 115,000 visitors poured into this community Thursday, clogging all major roads leading to the exposition site from as far as 12 miles away.

Excellent Care Needed to Keep Hair Healthy and Lovely

How to Pick Your Type of Wave

Now consider the permanent wave. After all, nearly every one has to have a permanent wave. Yet, there are few enough of us who really spend a little time and energy on plans for our new permanent.

One of the first things to think about is the type of hair you have. Obviously, if your hair is dry and brittle, bleached and sunburned; lifeless and in need of reviving; the type of wave for you is one which restores as much natural oil to the hair as possible. Also one which does not use much heat in giving the wave. There are many different permanents of this type to be had.

Probably if more women would have a reconditioning treatment before their new permanent they would find their hair in a much better condition after the wave as well as having their wave take a lot better. These treatments may be given in cream smeared over the hair. Next, the head is wrapped in waxed paper and steamed under a dryer. Another way rolling the curls for the permanent wave after they have been treated to a liberal oil dose.

You can have a permanent as often as every three months, providing you take excellent care of your hair, have a reconditioning treatment before the new permanent, and in general, if you spend time and money caring for your hair. No one—regardless of how healthy she or her hair may be—can expect to mistreat it or ignore its care and still have lovely, lusterous, youthful, healthy hair. That's too much to expect!

BRING THIS AD INTO OUR SALON AND IT WILL BE WORTH $1.50 ON A PERMANENT.

$250,000 Damage Suits on File In Federal Court

PITTSBURGH (UP)—More than $250,000 in damage suits were on file in Federal Court today as the result of chlorine gas poisoning allegedly suffered by 21 persons near Ellwood City last April.

The suits, filed Thursday by attorneys Alexander L. Sute and Marvin D. Power, charged the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad and Bison Laboratories, Inc., with negligence in handling the chlorine while unloading it at a railroad siding.

The noxious fumes sent at least 36 persons to the hospital. They began spreading about 4 a.m. April 11 when many of the victims were asleep in the Beaver County community of Frisco, where the siding is located.

The suit also charged Bison Laboratories with establishing a dummy corporation at Frisco to evade damage liability in connection with handling dangerous gases.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"WE're on a pay-as-I-went basis? Why just ME?"

Chicago Banker New Legion Commander

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UP) — The new national commander of the American Legion told the delegates to the group's 39th national convention that the United States was still the principal target of the Communist plan for world conquest and domination.

John S. Gleason Jr., a 42-year-old Chicago banker, urged that there be no slackening "of our moral, spiritual and physical defenses."

Gleason was elected commander of the legion Thursday at the closing session of the convention. He succeeds W. C. (Dan) Daniel.

The new national chaplain is the Rev. Feltham S. James, pastor of the 158-year-old Bethel Methodist Church, Charleston, S. C., and winner of a Freedoms Foundation gold medal for an outstanding sermon.

Gleason's acceptance speech followed an address by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover who denied reports of a drop in Communist Party membership in the U. S.

The FBI leader said that as long as the Red undercover apparatus exist, the Communist threat cannot be brushed aside as trivial or fanciful.

Alvin Owsley, American Legion representative to the trial of Army Spcl 3.C William Girard, urged the reexamination of all security treaties to provide safety clauses for American servicemen abroad. He said that Girard would get a fair trial in Japan.

The 40 and 8, an affiliate of the legion, elected William E. Armstrong, of Hot Springs, Ark., its Grand Chef De Chemin.

Winds Force Delay of Atom Testing Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UP) — Adverse winds today forced the Atomic Energy Commission to call off its "Whitney" nuclear shot from a 500-foot tower for another 24 hours.

The shot, 22nd of the summer series, was rescheduled for 8:30 a.m. p.d.t. Saturday. Scientists said the winds would have carried fallout from the blast, equal to about 15,000 tons of TNT, over populated areas.

Scientists didn't have to worry about weather conditions Thursday in triggering a nuclear device underground. The test was designed to prove that nuclear weapons could be tested without releasing potentially dangerous radioactivity and also to give earthquake experts a chance to study a man-made earthquake.

The radioactivity from the shot was trapped in a 2,000-foot long blast chamber deep under a desert mesa. The atomic device released a kick equivalent to between 1,000 and 3,000 tons of TNT.

Workers Mop Up Cyanide Pills At Wreck Scene

THAMESVILLE, Ont. (UP) — Workers mopped up in rainy weather today at the scene of a truck-train collision that spread 15 tons of dangerous cyanide over a quarter-mile area.

The second load of a chemical to neutralize the cyanide—calcium hypochlorite — arrived after midnight. The first 10,000-pound truck load was rushed from Detroit Thursday.

"Everything is under control and we're not aware of any emergency at the present time," Ontario provincial police said.

The accident before midnight Wednesday left residents in fear of their lives as reports circulated the cyanide would blanket the area with deadly fumes if exposed to rain or dew.

But chemists said there was little chance the fumes could be given off in sufficient volume to pose a threat to the community through water alone.

Engine Failure Is Blamed in Bomber Crash

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)— Engine failure was blamed today for the crash of a Navy attack bomber Thursday night from which the pilot and radarman parachuted to safety.

The plane, a Douglas Sky Raider from the Pomona Naval Air Station, crashed at the Navy bombing target, Warren Cove, about 12 miles from here just before midnight.

Lt. (jg) J. F. Gillen, of Wilmington, Del., the pilot, told authorities the engine quit at about 4,000 feet. He said he ordered the radarman, Airman J. R. Burdo, of Detroit, Mich., to bail out and then bailed out himself.

The Navy said the plane was on a night dive bombing and rocket hop training flight when the crash occurred. Both men are attached to the 33rd All-Weather Squadron.

London Redeveloping

LONDON (UP) — The London City Council has approved a 47-million-dollar plan to completely revamp 35 acres of the heart of London which were almost entirely bombed out during World War II.

Auto - Suggestion

RIVERHEAD, N.Y. (UP)—Mrs. Willie Jean Irvin, 20, was not surprised when she received three tickets following her first attempt at driving a car. But she was ticketed after a 10-minute drive in which she negotiated a U-turn in a neighbor's newly - seeded lawn, jumped a curb and rolled along a sidewalk until she cracked a concrete fence and ploughed into a two-story house, knocking it from its foundation.

U. S. in Hands Off Mideast

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States is opposed at this time to any new anti-aggression guarantees to Israel or any formal U.S. membership in the Moslem-dominated Baghdad Pact, officials reported today.

American opposition to any new policy statements or moves on Israel or the Baghdad Pact does not, officials emphasized, mean any lessening of strong U.S. support. The decision rather is to leave relations where they are for the time being despite the Middle East crisis resulting from Soviet penetration of Syria and Egypt.

Israel only last week pressed the United States for "crystal clear" assurances this country will oppose any aggression against Middle Eastern nations including Israel.

Dulles' Feeling

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was reported to feel that existing American assurances to Israel and other Middle Eastern countries are adequate to meet the present situation in the troubled area.

When Dulles discussed the matter with Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban he pointed out that American opposition to aggression is carefully outlined in the Eisenhower Doctrine approved by Congress last March.

Before conferring with Eban Dulles told a news conference he did not believe there is any danger of an attack on Israel at the present time. He mentioned the United States is pledged to aid any country which is attacked and pointed out Israel is "quite substantially armed."

Leader Claims Faubus 'Wrong As He Can Be'

ALBANY, N.Y. (UP) — Gov George M. Leader of Pennsylvania says Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus is "as wrong as he can be" in his actions to block integration in Central High School at Little Rock, Ark.

Leader spoke on the Arkansas civil rights situation Thursday night at a brief news conference before a dinner kicking off the 1957 elections campaign of New York state Democrats.

Leader said in an address at the dinner that the Democrats should take a strong stand in behalf of civil rights even if it hurts them at the polls.

He said there are persons who have predicted that if the Democrats take the lead on civil rights "we will pay for it at the polls."

"If this is true," Leader said, "then I say we must pay for it.

"I say we must do what we know is right regardless of whether we think it is expedient. I say that true freedom and true democracy must always be color blind."

Woman Acquitted In Fatal Accident

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (UP)—Mrs. Mary E. Pudliner, Conemaugh RD was acquitted Thursday of charges of involuntary manslaughter in connection with an automobile collision last Feb. 24 in which a Blair County boy was killed.

The victim of the collision was Lee Zubrod, 6, Hollidaysburg.

What Is Most Puzzling About the Catholic Religion?

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — What aspects of Roman Catholic faith are most puzzling to non-Catholics?

Judging from the questions most frequently asked of two priests who operate a new "Catholic Information Center" in downtown Washington, they are:

The church's claim that the Catholic Church is the "one true church," praying to the Virgin Mary and to Saints, belief in the infallibility of the Pope, and telling Catholics what books they may read or what movies they may see.

The Revs. James Kerins and James Coen have expounded Catholic teaching on these points hundreds of times since they opened their unusual information center in the heart of Washington's business district.

50 Inquirers Per Day

The center, sponsored by the local Roman Catholic archdiocese, has been operating since May 5. About 50 persons a day, on the average, come in to ask questions. A substantial majority of the visitors are non-Catholics.

"A few people come in with chips on their shoulders, hoping to start arguments," said Kerins. "But most of them are sincerely seeking information about some point of Catholic doctrine or practice which has puzzled or disturbed them."

Kerins and Coen conduct each interview in a friendly, conversational manner. They have no "set answers" for frequently - asked questions. The answers given below should therefore be considered only as an outline of some major points they would make if you walked into the center to ask one of the "favorite five" questions:

Q. — Why do Catholics contend there is only "one true church"—the one headed by the Pope?

A. — The New Testament records that Christ said to Peter, "Upon this rock I will build my church." From the very beginning of the church's history, Peter clearly exercised authority as single head of the Christian Church. And there is abundant testimony in the earliest centuries that the bishops of Rome who succeeded Peter were accepted as the authoritative heads of the church.

Prayers To Mary

Q. — Why do Catholics pray to the saints, and particularly to the Virgin Mary?

A. — Catholics do not "worship" Mary or the saints, because worship belongs only to God. But they believe that Mary, the mother of Christ, and the saints, who lived lives of virtue far beyond the goodness of other human beings, have influence with God. There is abundant historical testimony that prayers to Mary and to the saints have often been the means of obtaining from God special favors or even miracles.

Q. — Do Catholics really believe that the Pope—a human being—is "infallible?"

A. — The infallibility attributed to the Pope should not be confused with holiness, or moral perfection. Nor does it mean that every time the Pope speaks, he is divinely safeguarded from error. The Pope can make a mistake. It is only in certain circumstances—when the Pope speaks to the whole church, as the successor of St. Peter, on a doctrine of faith and morals—that the Holy Spirit will prevent him from making any mistake.

Q. — Why are Catholics forbidden to see certain movies, or to read certain books?

A. — The wrong kind of books and movies can bring serious harm to souls because they induce people to commit sin and to violate God's law. Any parent with even a bit of common sense will govern his children's reading The church, in performing her job of eternal watchfulness for souls, properly warns her children against these very real dangers to their eternal welfare.

State Revokes Drainage Permits

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Sanitary Water Board has revoked water drainage permits of three coal mining companies in western Pennsylvania.

The board said the permits were revoked "because of the reported failure of the mine operators to provide facilities for the diversion of surface water from their mines."

The companies are New Shawmut Mining Co., Fox Twp., Elk County; Waroquier Coal Co., Pike and Lawrence twps., Clearfield County; and the Arcadia Co., operating one mine in Montgomery, Banks, Canoe and Grant twps., and another mine in Montgomery Twp., both in Indiana County.

Dismal Start

CHEYENNE, Wyo (UP) — The Wyoming Eagle and State Tribune adopted a new slogan for Cheyenne Thursday, "Cheyenne — The Sunshine Capital." The sun didn't shine all day.

Pittsburgh Gets Industrial Money

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Commerce Department today announced award of a 71 thousand dollar grant to the Regional Industrial Development Corp. of Pittsburgh under the state's industrial development program.

The grant, awarded on a matching basis, will be made to the Pittsburgh agency today.

Commerce Secretary William R. Davlin said the funds will be used chiefly for surveys and studies "vital to the future development of the western part of the state."

Young Women's Class Meets in Christian Church

Rivers of the Bible proved an interesting topic for the members of the Young Women's Class of the Christian Church as presented by the program leader, Mrs. Evelyn Guseman, at their regular monthly meeting held on Tuesday evening.

The affair was held in the Christian Church social rooms. Each member was asked to name a river mentioned in the Bible and to give its location and any interesting fact pertaining to it as well as its reason for being mentioned.

During the business meeting plans were made to redecorate the church basement. The group also planned a pie social to be held on Thursday evening, October 10. Each member was asked to bring three guests in order to make up a table of four.

A social hour supplemented the business meeting. A lunch was served by the hostesses; Mrs. Agnes Miller, Mrs. Marge Miller, and Mrs. Laurel Fleming. Fourteen members were present.

Lions Club in Football Night; Hears Official

The regular bi-monthly meeting of the Fayette City Lions Club was held on Thursday evening in the Fayette City Methodist Church.

In keeping with the football season, Richard Richardson, program chairman had secured a football official to keep the Lions up to date with the rules of the game.

Thomas Barbero, of Roscoe, the faculty manager and teacher at Monongahela High, president of Chapter 5, Basketball Officials and a member of the Central Monongahela Valley Foot Ball Officials, provided an insight to the game of football in his talk to the group. He discussed the rules of the game and told of many actual happenings, some of a highly humerous nature.

Robert Premoshis' president of the club, then presented five new members: Robert Premsohis Jr., Regis Mazanet, Leonard Presock, Harry Ledgerton and William Scullion. The meeting was opened with the invocation by the Rev. Harry Beveridge.

A business meeting followed. Premoshis, secretary, Jasper Hare, and vice-president Vernon Smith reported on the district meeting held recently in Greensburg. They stated that there would be a mass induction of new members at the Ben Gross Restaurant near Irwin in the near future.

Premoshis talked on the drive underway for the securing of new members. Six members have been added to the club since his installation as president. He has set a goal of ten but hopes to exceed that figure.

Fleet Is Near Red Test Area

LONDON (UP)—The Soviet Union is carrying out tests of atomic weapons tactics within a few hundred miles of the huge NATO fleet exercises north of Britain, high Western sources disclosed today.

The sources told United Press that Soviet naval maneuvers within easy plane travel of the U.S. supercarriers Forrestal and Saratoga were believed to be concentrating on decontamination procedures in the event of atomic fallout.

NATO officials were unable to confirm the report.

A NATO striking force has been operating north and northwest of the British Isles for the last two days as part of seven-nation exercises.

The Soviet maneuvers are around the Barents Sea in the same general area where Russia triggered an underwater atomic blast two years ago this month.

Many Involved

About 10 cruisers, 40 to 50 destroyers and an undetermined number of submarines are known by western sources to be involved in the Soviet maneuvers.

A Soviet trawler, a member of a fishing fleet operating off Scotland, barged into the middle of a group of 50 NATO ships participating in the exercises Thursday.

Rear Adm. H. A. Yeager, attached to the staff of the NATO Atlantic command, said it probably would not be the last.

The 100-foot trawler ignored warnings flashed from U.S. ships to stay clear of the warships and continued on its course.

NATO officials refused to say how the U.S. atomic-powered sub Nautilus was making out as part of the attacking force in the war games because it would tip the defending force to secret strategy. However, they said some information on the Nautilus might be released a little later.

July Business Sets Record; Industrials Up

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP)—General business in Pennsylvania during July set a new record while industrial activity showed a slight decline, the Pennsylvania State University Bureau of Business Research announced today.

Showing improvement from June to July were bank debits, factory hours, factory payrolls, motor vehicle sales, building permits, crude oil production, carloadings, bituminous coal output, life insurance sales and postal receipts.

Anthracite coal production, steel production, industrial power sales and department store sales showed declines. Factory employment and street railway traffic showed no change from June to July, the Bureau said.

Areas that showed a gain in general business from June to July and the percentage of gain were Bethlehem 3, Erie, 5, Harrisburg 10, Lancaster 3, Philadelphia 7, Pittsburgh 5, Reading 1, Scranton 7, Wilkes-Barre 2, York 3.

Losses were reported in Allentown and Easton of 5 and 7 respectively.

We live today with memories.
Of days when you were here.
We miss you still and always will
Throughout each day and year.

And sleep forsakes our eyes
Our thoughts are in that lonely grave
Where our dear loved one lies.
Sadly missed by Wife, Daughter, Sons and Grandson.

In loving memory of our dear brother, John Skira, who died five years ago, September 19, 1952.
It's lonesome here without our brother,
And sad the weary way,
For life is not the same to us
Since he was called away.
Gone from us that smiling face,
Those carefree happy days,
The heart that won so many friends
In bygone happy days.
Sadly missed by Sisters and Brothers.

Germans Lose Jobs

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UP) — More than 4,450 German employes of the U S. Army are expected to lose their jobs in the next five months due to budget limitations, Army headquarters today reported. Army officials expressed regret at the action and said they would do everything possible to find the released employes new jobs.

Salk Says Flu Virus Might not Be Newcomer

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Dr. Jonas E. Salk suspects the Asian flu virus "might actually be one that we have met before."

It may not be a newcomer after all, he said, but a midget microbe of the influenza family that is returning after a long rest.

However, he said, it probably will take "the next several decades of study" to determine this.

Salk spoke on the Asian flu virus Thursday at a special meeting of the Pennsylvania Medical Society in annual convention here.

He urged that old flu strains be kept in standard influenza vaccines and new strains added, without dropping out the old ones. He said the old ones may be bouncing back in the future.

"The thing to do," he said, "is to keep broadening the spectrum of the vaccine."

Timely Response

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP)—Detective R. C. Cagle couldn't prove a 13-year-old boy had stolen two guns, so he told the suspect, "I want those guns back at the owner's house by 5 p.m." They were back by 3 p.m.

Steel Customers Call Tune

NEW YORK (UP) — Although steel consumption may set a record this year, customers still call the tune in most products because of the rapid growth of capacity, Iron Age said today.

In a special survey the authoritative trade magazine found that by 1959 industry capacity will be up about 12,200,000 tons over this year to 145,600,000 tons.

This year the industry will spend a record $1,700,000,000 for new steel - making and finishing capacity, it added, noting that since 1947 producers will have spent nearly 10 billion dollars to keep pace with their expanding market.

Iron Age said that actual steel consumption this year may set a record or at least hold to a level comparable with 1956.

A consumption figure of 84 million finished tons is usually mentioned, the magazine said. this would include steel used from inventory, which is another big factor in this year's market.

Commenting on the current steel market, Iron Age said it is showing "a slow but steady improvement."

Demand for sheets and strip is picking up, it noted, although orders from the automakers still are not up to what the mills had expected for this time of year.

Selecting Aid for Hearing

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Selecting the best hearing aid for a child who is hard of hearing may be quite a problem. Should an ear specialist prescribe such a device for your youngster, you'll find you have any number of different models from which to choose.

More than 50 American firms manufacture hearing aids. Each one produces from one to six models. And new models are appearing constantly.

Most generally used are air-conduction aids which require a well-fitted ear piece in the external ear canal. Bone-conduction aids are sometimes prescribed, but are not nearly as common. This type has a receiver which is held in place over the mastoid bone.

Basic Requirements

But, no matter which type is best in your particular case, any hearing aid should provide these basic requirements: adequate sound amplification, authentic sound reproduction, sensitivity to speech frequencies, comfort, convenience and wearability.

Don't select any hearing aid without getting it approved by your own doctor. He will check the instruments as to the specific types of hearing loss they are designed to benefit and he will also determine their particular characteristics.

Finally, have your doctor give the instrument you select an audiologic evaluation. If it passes this test, then this probably is the best hearing aid for your youngster.

Once your doctor prescribes an aid, I would suggest you obtain it as soon as possible. You don't want to deprive the child of this wonderful world of sound any longer than necessary.

While some children just can't seem to adjust to aids satisfactorily, and don't really get any benefit from them, most youngsters who are hard of hearing are greatly helped.

The age of the child doesn't matter much. Some hearing aids are prescribed for babies as young as one year. And you'd be surprised at the number of two and four-year-olds who use them.

The main thing is to discover any hearing defect your child might have and then correct it.

Buster Crabbe Gets Thirsty in the Desert

By RON BURTON

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Buster Crabbe must have become thirsty doing the hot desert location shots for the TV series, "Captain Gallant." He's switching to an underwater series called "Davy Jones."

Crabbe, once an international swimming champion, thinks that TV really isn't going to the western dogs this season. By 1958 he thinks producers will be looking for more exciting locales for outdoor adventure series.

"Outer space, the African jungle and the western plains have all been done to death in television series for several years," Crabbe said. "The public wants newer, more exotic locations with greater dimension in TV shows. That's why I think it's only natural for TV to go underwater in 1958."

Crabbe is so convinced about the underwater trend that he's backing the "Davy Jones" series with his own time and money. In addition, he quit the desert series which was successful. Crabbe starred in it for three years of adventures on the burning sands of the Sahara.

Crabbe's role in the new series will permit him to roam the world over — except for certain Iron Curtain areas, of course. Submarine scenes for the first show were shot in the blue waters off the Bahamas and off the Southern California coastal island, Catalina. Exterior, shots for future shows will be made in the Mediterranean and in wild, wonderful remote locations in the South Seas.

"This going underwater will bring a new perspective to the screen," Crabbe said. "Living things and amazing backgrounds which can't even be imagined but have to be seen — all this will wind up right in everybody's living room."

The former Olympic star spent several years in developing camera equipment which he used to film the series. He will act as associate producer in addition to having the title role.

"We're enthusiastic about the series," he said. "We believe that 'Davy Jones' will go right to the top — in popularity polls, that is."

Confidential Jury Sifting Evidence

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Jurors in the Confidential magazine criminal libel trial began their fourth day of sifting through mountains of evidence and testimony today with no sign of a quick verdict.

Court attaches suggested that the six - man, six - woman panel would be deliberating well into next week.

World of TV—

Godfrey Theme in Lawsuit

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) —The channel swim. . .

Arthur Godfrey's theme, "Seems Like Old Times," is the subject of a lawsuit initiated by Carmen Lombardo and John Jacob Loeb, co-composers of the tune. Lombardo and Loeb want more money from ASCAP. They say Godfrey uses the tune 12 times a day and they're not getting sufficient royalties. ASCAP says Godfrey plays only a fragment of the tune—therefore, fewer credits, less pay.

Arlene Francis expects her new half-hour evening series for NBC-TV to go into the pilot film stage some time after the end of the year. Arlene won't reveal the format, but she has junked plans to build a situation comedy around a congresswoman.

NBC-TV is going to crack down on all those free plugs for airlines. . . First contestants on the resuscitated "Do You Trust Your Wife" show, which bows in on ABC-TV Sept. 30, will be Erik and Helena Gude—the couple who won $128,800 on the show last season.

Price Difference

When Garry Moore guests on the NBC-TV Perry Como show Oct. 5, it'll mark their third meeting. The last time was in 1951 when Como cut Moore's hair on Moore's CBS-TV show. The first was back in 1940 when Moore emceed "Beat The Band," a radio show that featured Ted Weems band and vocalist Como. Incidentally, the budget of that entire radio opus was only $2500 a week—considerably less than what Como now pays for a single guest.

ABC execs are peeved at Frank Sinatra—He promised to set aside three or four days for interviews in Manhattan, but never came through. . . Janet Blair, Sid Caesar's former TV frau, landed the lead in the forthcoming London production of "Bells Are Ringing."

Jack Paar is having troubles with vandals around his Westchester, N. Y., home—They yanked down his mail box and threw mice in his pool. . . Insiders say Janette Davis will marry Frank Musiello, Arthur Godfrey's director, before Christmas—the couple has Godfrey's blessing.

"Omnibus" will begin its NBC-TV series Oct. 20 with a 90-minute musical based on the "Stover at Yale" stories that appeared 50 years ago in "McClure's Magazine". . . Jeannie Carson, whose "Hey Jeannie" series was dumped by CBS-TV last season, is going into an English film, "Rockets Galore."

CBS-TV's "Armstrong Circle Theater" is planning an entire show around Tangier Island, a tiny spot off the coast of Maryland. . . "The U.S. Steel Hour" has inked June Lockhart to three more dramas this season. . . Louis Nye, the comic who plays "Gordon Hathaway" on the Steve Allen Show, may wind up as the star of his own series, "Fancy Dan."

Claims Pay - TV Hits at System

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UP)—Harold E. Fellows, president of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, charged here today that pay television is a threat which would strike at the foundation of the American system of free broadcasting.

Addressing a regional conference of the NARTB, Fellows said, "promoters of pay television schemes have sought to pre-empt the broadcasting frequencies themselves and to institute a system utterly foreign to the American concept of broadcasting."

Fellows added that "the free broadcasters and the public they serve are the intended victims of this invasion."

Many Memorial Gifts at Library

Gifts of funds to the Monessen Public Library to purchase books as memorials for departed friends are becoming more and more prevalent here, according to Vivian L. Drake, the librarian.

Miss Drake said that since July 1, the Library has received about $55 for book memorials.

She said the Library prefers to receive cash rather than books so as to avoid possible duplication of titles already in the collection.

But the librarian frequently confers with the donors in an effort to have the memorial books reflect some particular interest of the person being honored.

A special bookplate is used in each volume to designate the honored person and the donor. In appropriate cases the family of the deceased is notified of the gift and invited to inspect the books.

Following are some of the titles recently acquired through memorial gifts:

The New Basic Cook Book, by Hoseltine and Dow.

Arms and Men, by Walter Millis — A study in American military history.

Lives of the Saints, by Alban Butler — A four-volume reference set arranged by the days of the year.

Remodeling Guide for Home Interiors, by J. R. Dalzell — Designed for use by the carpenter or handyman.

Book of Great Historic Places, by American Heritage Magazine — A well-illustrated guide to the places where history was made, equally suitable for the real or armchair traveler.

Red Dog Report

CHICAGO (UP) — Two visiting Russians enjoy aristocratic breakfasts that would cause raised eyes and hanging tongues in the Kremlin. Baron and Lady Wolfschmidt —a pair of Russian wolfhounds on a goodwill tour for a vodka company—start off the day with six egg yolks, buttered toast and milk.

Feeder Calf Sale Oct. 2

A feeder calf sale will be held at the Butler (Pa.) Fairgrounds Wednesday, Oct. 2, beginning at 12 noon.

Sponsored by the Western Pennsylvania Cooperative Feeder Calf Sale, Inc., the sale will feature 200 head of calves produced by commercial and purebred beef breeding herds.

Angus, Hereford and Shorthorn steers and heifers, all of which have been vaccinated, will be placed on the selling block. These particular steers and heifers have no horns.

Fairhope Dial on Oct. 20

Dial telephone services will begin at 3:01 a.m. on Sunday Oct. 20, for customers in the Fairhope-Arnold City area, it was announced today by J. Lawrence Buchanan, Bell Telephone's district manager.

These phones will be served by a novel mobile dial central office, located in a semi-trailer parked off of Perry St. in Fairhope.

The office will be known as "Gypsy" and will provide service for approximately 300 customers.

Buchanan said the mobile office will ease the telephone load now handled by the Belle Vernon central office and will provide for expected telephone growth in the area until the entire Belle Vernon exchange is converted to dial operation in 1959.

"Only telephones with Gypsy numbers will be dial-operated," the manager stated. "All other Belle Vernon telephones will be manually-operated as at present."

He added that there will be some duplication of numbers among telephones served by the Belle Vernon and the Gypsy offices. The new telephone directory, to be delivered before the new office goes into service, will list both Gypsy and Belle Vernon numbers.

Customers using Gypsy telephones will dial the four figures of the number to reach another Gypsy telephone. They will dial the code figure "9" and give the desired number to the operator when calling a Belle Vernon number. All other calls from Gypsy telephones will be placed through the operator.

Customers using manual Belle Vernon telephones will simply tell the operator the Gypsy or Belle Vernon number being called.
